Kansas City artist John Martin, a longtime Chiefs fan and alumnus of Kansas University, is responsible for the front cover and back cover illustrations of the 1982 media guide. The front cover illustration of center Jack Rudnay and Joe Delaney is adapted from a Hank Young photograph from last season. Young, another Kansas City native and also an alumnus of KU, is the Chiefs official photographer. The back cover depicts the 20th anniversary of the Chiefs in Kansas City, featuring the front cover illustration with old Municipal Stadium, the team's first home here, and 10-year-old Arrowhead Stadium.

CHIEFS OWNER

LAMAR HUNT

Over the last two decades, pro football has moved into a place of prominence among America's sporting fans and Kansas City Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt has played no small role in that success.

The current president of the AFC and founder of the old American Football League, Hunt has been a unique architect in the development and excitement of the game since he formed the AFL in 1960.

As the 1982 season opens, this quiet Texan begins his 23rd year in pro football as the sole owner of the Kansas City Chiefs, who, with this season, celebrate their 20th anniversary in Kansas City. Long honored and respected by his peers, Hunt was recently recognized by the NFL Alumni Association when he received its highest award—The Order of the Leather Helmet—at the annual 1981 convention. Hunt, along with Dallas Cowboys head coach Tom Landry, received the distinguished award for dedication and service to pro football. One of the main forces in the growth and development of pro football, Hunt accepted the award by noting, "I'm honored because this award comes from men who built the game of football and made it possible."

Hunt's initial venture into organized sports was as a player. He was a reserve end at Southern Methodist University. Of his brief collegiate playing career, Hunt once quipped: "Fortunately I didn't drop any passes because none were ever thrown at the end of the bench."

Indicative of his stature within the game is the fact that he was the first AFL figure to be enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. That honor was bestowed on Hunt in 1972 when, at the enshrinement ceremonies in Canton, Hunt's good friend Bill Sullivan of the New England Patriots described the Chiefs owner as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream."

That dream, to start a new pro football league, unfolded in the early part of 1959, became a reality with eight new AFL franchises opening the 1960 season and a new league truly was born. Later, of course, came the merger with the NFL and the creation of the Super Bowl, both events partially orchestrated by Hunt. Appropriately enough, it was Hunt's team, the Chiefs, who played in that first world championship game in January of 1967 against the Green Bay Packers and then came back to win the Super Bowl in January of 1970 against the Minnesota Vikings.

Hunt continues to be a prominent pro football leader and his ventures in Kansas City involve more than just the Chiefs. First there were improvements the Chiefs funded during the construction of Arrowhead Stadium in 1972. Hunt then developed a multi-million-dollar, Kansas City area recreation park, Worlds of Fun, and this year opened a new theme park in the area, Oceans of Fun. He also owns Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc., and Mid-America Enterprises, Inc., development and real estate companies.

A sportsman in the true sense of the word—and jogger and tennis player, Hunt is also involved in several other sports ventures. He organized and coordinated the formation and development of World Championship Tennis and, through WCT, helped bring the sport further international prominence. He is involved with the North American Soccer League and he also is one of the founding owners of the Chicago Bulls of the NBA.

In addition to his numerous business commitments, Hunt is active as a member of the board of directors of NFL Charities and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Hunt also is active in numerous civic functions and events in both Dallas and in Kansas City.

Hunt and his wife, Norma, have four children, Lamar Jr., Sharon, Clark and Daniel. The family resides in Dallas, Texas.

CHIEFS PRESIDENT

JACK STEADMAN

Determination and dedication to rebuilding an NFL championship team in Kansas City has been the number one priority for Chiefs president Jack Steadman, who begins his 23rd year as the chief executive officer for Lamar Hunt's pro football franchise.

In 1975, under Steadman's guidance, the Chiefs revamped their football operations in an effort to build a champion once again in the highly competitive AFC Western Division of the NFL. This reorganization included the development of a separate scouting and personnel department under Les Miller, a new head coach in 1978 in Marv Levy and a new man in charge of the football operations in general manager Jim Schaaf. The reorganization and the patience to provide it time to work has reached fruition and in 1982 the Chiefs organization and Steadman believe Levy's team is truly a bona fide playoff contender.

A recognized leader among pro football administrators, Steadman has structured the Chiefs organization to meet the challenge brought about by the growth of the business of pro football over the years.

As the Chiefs begin their 20th season in Kansas City and their 11th season in magnificent Arrowhead Stadium, Steadman can look with pride at the list of football and administrative accomplishments the organization has achieved since moving from Dallas for the beginning of the 1963 season in the old American Football League.

It was Steadman who conceived the idea of Kansas City building the dual Harry S. Truman Sports Complex, which houses the Chiefs in 78,000-seat Arrowhead and the baseball Royals in 42,000 Royals Stadium. Combined, this complex is recognized as the finest of its kind in the world.

Steadman has been a constant innovator since entering pro football and many of his ideas and developments have been duplicated throughout the NFL. Some of these creative ideas include a ticket-by-telephone system for enhancing area-wide sales, a unique seat relocation program for season ticket holders, a reserved parking plan for Arrowhead and numerous other ticket and marketing programs.

Steadman was promoted from general manager to executive vice president and general manager in 1966 and, in August of 1976, was named president of the Chiefs in charge of all operations.

In addition to serving as president of the Chiefs, Steadman also is president of Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc.; chairman of Mid-America Enterprises, Inc., which owns Worlds of Fun and Oceans of Fun, multi-million dollar family recreation theme parks in the Kansas City area; and chairman of Great Midwest Corporation, a real estate, limestone rock mining, and underground development firm in the Kansas City International Trade Zone. He also serves on the board of directors of Commerce Bank.

Actively involved within the community since arriving in Kansas City, Steadman is a tireless worker and detailed organizer in many civic projects. His civic activities include vice chairman for membership for the Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce; member of the Civic Council Steering Committee of the Kansas City Economic and Development Council; chairman of the Heart of America United Way; vice president of the Starlight Theatre Association; board member of The American Royal Association and an advisory trustee for Research Medical Center.

Born in Aurora, Illinois, Steadman grew up in Warrenville, Illinois, and Dallas, Texas. He attended Baylor University and received his degree in business administration from Southern Methodist University. Jack and his wife, Martha, reside in Mission Hills, Kansas.

CHIEFS GENERAL MANAGER

JIM SCHAAF

Jim Schaaf, the Chiefs 44-year-old general manager, begins his 17th season with the team in a career that has covered virtually all areas of the club's operation. Schaaf joined the Chiefs in 1966 as director of public relations following five years association with the Kansas City Athletics baseball club. He was elevated to assistant general manager in January, 1968, and to vice president in July, 1974.

Schaaf was named to his present position in August of 1976. Following Lamar Hunt's elevation of Jack Steadman to president, Steadman instituted a reorganization of the club's front office that resulted in Schaaf's being named vice president and general manager. In January, 1978, Steadman delegated to Schaaf full responsibility in the areas of player personnel and overall team operations. In that assignment, he works closely with head coach Marv Levy and player personnel director Les Miller and their staffs in the day-to-day responsibility of player personnel and football team areas of operation.

"Jim has all the qualities you look for in a general manager," says Steadman. "He is dedicated, aggressive, intelligent, thorough and highly motivated to succeed. In the last couple years, we have shown substantial progress in all team-related areas of operation. This has been due in no small way to Jim's dedication and leadership. He is now being recognized as one of the most outstanding general managers in pro football."

Schaaf's duties in the past included supervision of Chiefs day-to-day operations and the promotion of special events. Schaaf held several front office positions with the Athletics and was their director of publicity and promotions when he joined the Chiefs.

Schaaf was born May 22, 1938 in Erie, Pennsylvania. He attended Cathedral Preparatory School in Erie, then moved to Notre Dame, where he earned a bachelor's degree in economics. He played three years of football for the Fighting Irish, two as a starter, at guard from 1956-58. He and his wife, Julie, have two children, Jill Marie, 18, and James, 14. The family lives in Overland Park.

CHIEFS HEAD COACH

MARV LEVY

Like an architect, Marv Levy has planned and built the Kansas City Chiefs into prominence once again. In his four years, Levy has taken the Chiefs from the bottom and molded them into a powerful contender.

When he came to Kansas City in 1977, the once-mighty Chiefs were at a low point, coming off a disastrous 2-12 season. But with Levy at the helm, improvement started immediately. In his first campaign, the Chiefs bettered their mark to 4-12. The next year they jumped to 7-9, then to 8-8 the following season. And then last year, the Chiefs best since 1973, they made great strides in finishing with a 9-7 record. It was a season of tremendous progress and one which established the Chiefs as one of the most improved teams in the National Football League.

"I feel it was a big breakthrough for our club to go over .500," Levy diagnosed. "To our players it let them walk away feeling and believing that, if not on a grand scale, at least we are winners. It makes me believe, too, they are winners and that they will continue in that direction. I think we've built lots of confidence not only with our players but with our whole organization and, to a larger degree, as much as I can sense it, among our fans."

"To be realistic, we missed the playoffs by the field goal San Diego kicked with 13 seconds left in the ball game. Had we stopped them on that drive, we would have been 10-6 and the division champs and in the playoffs."

Levy, staying true to a commitment made when taking over the Chiefs four years ago, has built his Kansas City team through the draft. It has provided him with a solid foundation on which to apply his sound coaching philosophy.

"We've tried to build things in priority order—defense and kicking teams first, then the running and passing game. I love the resoluteness and purpose the Kansas City Chiefs have been willing to maintain. We haven't wavered from the direction we are going."

"We'll stay with the same approach . . . an on-the-field approach. Our style is simple but not easy, roll up your sleeves and play good, solid football. We want to develop a quality football team that is going to last. Our goal is to win the Super Bowl and win it again and again."

Marvin Daniel Levy came to the Chiefs by way of the Canadian Football League, but he was by no means a stranger to NFL circles when he was named head coach (only the fourth in club history) on December 20, 1977. From 1973 through 1977, Levy was head coach of the CFL Montreal Alouettes and it was his spectacular success north of the border that made him a head coaching candidate in the NFL. This is the 10th consecutive season that Levy has been a head coach on the professional level.

Counting postseason play in which the Alouettes won the CFL Grey Cup two times in Levy's five years, his record in Canada was 50-34-4. The Alouettes made the CFL playoffs each of Levy's five seasons, played for the Grey Cup three times and, in 1977, Montreal recorded its best-ever regular season record, 11 victories and five defeats. The Als finished the year with a 41-6 Grey Cup rout of Edmonton.

Marv began his professional coaching career in 1969 with the Philadelphia Eagles as kicking teams coach. He joined George Allen's Los Angeles Rams staff in 1970, then moved with Allen to the Washington Redskins the following year. Levy remained on the Redskins staff through the 1972 season. With a great emphasis on the Levy-coached kicking teams, Washington won the 1972 NFC championship, 26-3 over the Dallas Cowboys, then met Miami in Super Bowl VII. Levy moved to Montreal in 1973. His first squad reached the finals of the CFL's Eastern Division, then won the Grey Cup the following year.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he was an outstanding running back, Levy also holds a master's degree in English history from Harvard. His college coaching career got underway at Coe from 1953 through 1955, following a two-year coaching and teaching stint at St. Louis Country Day School (1951-52). He joined the New Mexico staff in 1956 and was New Mexico's head coach in 1958-59. After receiving Skyline Conference coach of the year honors both those seasons, Levy took over at California in 1960, coaching the Golden Bears through the 1963 season. One of Levy's players at the time was All-American quarterback Craig Morton. His next coaching assignment was at William and Mary, where he stayed five years (1964-1968). Levy was named Southern Conference coach of the year in 1964 and '65.

Having spent considerable time around George Allen, who recommended him highly for the Chiefs post, Levy knows the importance of a strong defense and quality kicking teams. These were the first two areas he concentrated on after coming to Kansas City.

"The Chiefs have traditionally had outstanding kicking teams and we expect to continue a high level of performance in this very important area of play," Levy says of the 1982 season. "I feel we have developed a good, solid defense, but improved play at the linebacker positions is the key to achieving our long sought-after goal of having a dominating defense."

Last year, Levy turned his attention a little more towards the offensive phase of the game and came up with the AFC's number one-ranked rushing output. Now, as he enters his fifth year with the Chiefs, Levy's number one priority is improving the passing game.

"An effective offensive attack needs a balance between running and passing. Our passing game needs development, but we are not going to turn the tables and become a passing team. We do have to throw better, though. We expect with continued development of our quarterbacks and receiving corps, that improvement in the passing aspect of our overall offense will give us the desired balance."

In addition to athletic ability, Levy takes pride in selecting players who will represent the Chiefs well and give total effort on every play.

"I think we have great people on our football team . . . people who are essentially team oriented and who will lay it on the line to win. We have players on our team who have enthusiasm for the game and are willing to work hard in season and out of season."

Levy and the Chiefs will be trying to better last year's 9-7 mark and earn a spot in the playoffs. But they must face a demanding list of opponents which comprise the 1982 schedule.

"Being a member of the AFC West automatically makes our schedule a difficult one, but at the same time a very exciting one. We play some outstanding teams and our home schedule, of course, includes the Super Bowl champions on the final day of the regular season. There's no doubt we will be keenly challenged in every game this year, but we mean to do some keen challenging ourselves."

Levy, 53, is married to the former Dorothy Prout, whom he met when both were students at Coe. They reside in Overland Park.

CHIEFS COACHING STAFF

ROD RUST, Defensive Coordinator

The initial appointee to Levy's staff, Rust heads into his fifth season of coordinating the Chiefs solid defensive unit, which ranked first in the AFC against the run last year.

A longtime acquaintance of Levy's, the 54-year-old Rust has coached with and against him in the past. The Webster, Iowa native spent three seasons (1973-75) as defensive coordinator for Levy's Montreal Alouettes. He then spent two years with the Philadelphia Eagles, working with the linebackers and front seven, before rejoining Levy in Kansas City.

"Rod has done a fine job in coordinating our defense," Levy says. "In the four seasons he has been in charge, it has shown noticeable improvement from what it was when we came here."

A center and linebacker at Iowa State, Rust completed a two-year tour of duty with the U.S. Army in the Far East before embarking on his coaching career. His first collegiate experience was at the University of New Mexico as an assistant in 1960. He moved on to Stanford in 1963 where he was defensive coordinator under John Ralston through 1966. Levy, meanwhile, was across town as head coach of the California Bears during part of Rust's stint at Stanford.

In 1967, Rust was named head coach at North Texas State. During his six years there, he helped develop several outstanding defensive linemen, including all-pros Joe Greene of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Cedrick Hardman, formerly of San Francisco and now with Oakland.

Rod is the father of two sons, Jeff, 29; and Greg, 26. He makes his home in North Kansas City.

WALT COREY, Defensive Backfield Coach

Having now coached all phases of the Chiefs defense during his career, Corey begins his second season as coach of the respected secondary.

A former Chiefs player, Corey served as the defensive line coach in 1978-79 under Levy and worked with the linebackers from 1971-74 under Hank Stram.

"Walt has done the same fine job with the defensive backs as he had previously done with the defensive line," says Levy. "They are a sound, cohesive unit, well drilled and fundamental, and will continue to improve under his direction."

Corey's defensive backfield consists of two Pro Bowlers, Gary Barbaro and Gary Green. All-AFC second teamer Eric Harris, and last year's Mack Lee Hill Award winner, Lloyd Burruss.

Corey played linebacker with the Dallas Texans and Chiefs from the American Football League's inception in 1960 through the 1966 season. He entered the collegiate coaching ranks in 1967 at Utah State, then returned to Miami (Fla.), his alma mater, in 1970. Walt worked under Stram as linebacker coach for four years, 1971-74, then spent the next three seasons on the Cleveland Browns coaching staff prior to his return to Kansas City.

A devoted weight training enthusiast, Corey handled those responsibilities in the past with the Chiefs. It was a personal training program that allowed Corey his chance to play pro football. He built himself up to 235 pounds, from a 180-pound defensive end, to win a tryout with the Texans. He also instituted the Chief's first weight-training conditioning program in 1964 as an active player.

Walt and his wife, Jane, daughter Carla, 15; and son Mark, 14; make their home in Raytown.

DON LAWRENCE, Defensive Line Coach

Lawrence enters his third year with the Chiefs and second as defensive line coach. He worked with the kicking teams his initial season in Kansas City.

His line was a big factor in the Chiefs defense ranking first in the AFC against the run last year. Much of Lawrence's playing and coaching career has centered around the defensive line. Prior to coming to Kansas City in 1980, he spent the 1978-79 seasons with the CFL British Columbia Lions in charge of the defensive line and linebackers.

A graduate of Notre Dame, Lawrence was a sixth round draft choice of the Washington Redskins in 1959. He played guard and defensive tackle in the NFL through 1961 before moving into coaching, beginning at his alma mater.

He's also coached at two Big Eight schools. Lawrence was with Kansas State in 1964-65 and spent the 1976-77 seasons under Al Onofrio at Missouri.

"Don moved to the defensive line last year after coaching the special teams, and has done a fine job in continuing to develop the young players there," Levy says.

Lawrence was head coach at Virginia from 1971-73, compiling an 11-22 record. He moved to Texas Christian University in 1974-75 before departing TCU for Missouri. He was a three-year letterman at Notre Dame from 1956-58 where one of his teammates was current Chiefs general manager Jim Schaaf.

Don and his wife, Barbara, have three children, Kay, 19; Betsy, 18; and Joe, 17. They make their home in Overland Park.

TED COTTRELL, Linebackers Coach

Although Marv Levy had wanted a linebacker coach for some time prior to last year, he decided to take his time in order to get the right man. He found what he wanted in Cottrell, who now begins his second year with the Chiefs.

"The addition of Ted Cottrell to our staff last year was a meaningful one in that he gave close, specific attention to our linebackers," Levy says. "We drafted heavily in that area and Ted will assume an important role in developing the young linebackers."

Prior to coming to Kansas City, the 34-year-old Cottrell was a coach for eight years at Rutgers University. He coached briefly at his alma mater, Delaware Valley College, before becoming defensive line coach at Rutgers in 1973. He was named defensive coordinator his final year (1980) before entering the professional ranks.

A graduate of Delaware Valley College, Cottrell won all-league honors three seasons and was a seventh round draft pick of the Atlanta Falcons in 1969. He played the 1969-70 seasons at linebacker for the Falcons, then spent 1971-72 with the CFL Winnipeg Blue Bombers before moving into coaching.

Cottrell and his wife Barbara reside in the Kansas City area.

KAY DALTON, Quarterbacks & Receivers Coach

Dalton has been in charge of the Chiefs passing game for all four years of Marv Levy's tenure in Kansas City. The Chiefs passing output last year was the best since their team-record year of 1976.

A native of Moab, Utah, the 50-year-old Dalton has been the overseer of quarterbacks Steve Fuller and Bill Kenney since their rookie seasons. He also has helped develop one of the league's finest receiver duos, Henry Marshall and J. T. Smith.

Dalton's passing game philosophies are built around more than a decade of coaching experience in both the NFL and CFL. Dalton coached the Denver Broncos receivers from 1974-76, then spent 1977 at Buffalo, before joining Marv Levy's staff the following year. This season is Dalton's fifth with the Chiefs and ninth consecutive in the NFL.

"Kay and I go back a long ways," Levy says. "We went from a situation of being very unsettled at quarterback to a position of strength. Kay has really helped both Steve and Bill come into their own. At the same time, he's helped make better players of our starting receivers as well."

Dalton came to the Chiefs on the heels of a strong passing performance by the '77 Bills. While in charge of the Buffalo passing game, the Bills led the AFC in passing offense with the most net yards and highest per-game average.

Dalton's and Levy's coaching roots both go back to Montreal and the CFL. Kay's first professional assignment came in 1966 at Montreal and he was named the Alouettes head coach the next year. He led the Als through 1969, then became offensive coordinator of the British Columbia Lions in 1970.

A college player at Colorado State, Dalton went to cross-state Colorado as an assistant for the 1971-72 seasons. He joined Denver in 1973, spending a year in the scouting department before moving to the coaching staff. Dalton's head coaching experience on the college level includes stints at Trinidad State Junior College from 1958-60 and Western State College from 1961-65.

Dalton, wife Mary Jane and daughter Meredith live in Lee's Summit.

J. D. HELM, Offensive Backfield Coach

After spending seven years on the Chiefs player personnel staff, Helm will join the coaching staff as offensive backfield coach.

Helm had been a talent scout on Les Miller's personnel staff since 1975 and was named the assistant director of player personnel in 1980.

He came to Kansas City following seven years as an assistant coach at Brigham Young University. He was a freshman assistant in 1968, then elevated to the varsity in 1969. He was instrumental the next six years in the BYU offensive attack, tutoring the offensive backs, receivers and quarterbacks.

A graduate of the University of Kansas, the 41-year-old Helm served as a graduate assistant at KU in 1965. He then coached two years at Shawnee Mission East High School in Kansas City.

"J. D. is very familiar with our personnel and with our entire offensive system," Levy says. "During the past several seasons, he benefited us greatly during training camp and as a press box spotter on game days. He is a detailed, fundamental-type of guy who had an excellent coaching reputation when he was at BYU."

A native of El Dorado Springs, Missouri, Helm and his wife, Elizabeth, have four children; Heather, 12; Lisa 8, Erin 7 and Adam 5. The family resides in Overland Park.

TOM BRESNAHAN, Offensive Line Coach

One of the most improved areas for the Chiefs last year was the offensive line play, and much of the credit goes to Bresnahan and his coaching techniques.

His line helped the Chiefs running game rank first in the AFC and at the same time reduced by 20 the number of quarterback sacks from the previous year. It was Bresnahan's first year with the Chiefs, after serving as offensive line coach at the Naval Academy the previous eight years.

"In his first year as a professional football coach, Tom did a remarkable job with our lineman," Levy says. "He is an outstanding fundamentalist and a tough, no-nonsense football coach whose instruction helped improve our offensive line play tremendously."

The 47-year-old Bresnahan, a native of Springfield, Mass., graduated from Holy Cross University with a degree in economics and philosophy.

He began his coaching career on the high school level in Massachusetts, winning two championships along the way. His collegiate experience began in 1963 at Williams College, where he was offensive line coach, and also assisted with the wrestling and track programs. When Frank Navarro, who hired him at Williams, moved to Columbia as head coach in 1968, he brought Bresnahan with him as offensive coordinator and line coach. Bresnahan remained with the Lions until the spring of 1973, when he joined the Navy staff.

While at Navy, Bresnahan was director of the Midshipman weight training program and was the academy's chief recruiter in the western United States.

A two-year starter and letterman at tackle for Holy Cross, Bresnahan served in the U.S. Army for two years. During his tour, he was offensive line coach of the Fort Dix (N.J.) base team.

Bresnahan and wife Elaine are the parents of four children; Tom, Jr., 23, Chuck, 21, Dan 17 and Denise, 12. The family resides in Blue Springs.

FRANK GANSZ, Kicking Teams & Tight Ends Coach

Kicking teams have been a high priority of Marv Levy in his four-year tenure as Chiefs head coach. Gansz upheld that high level of performance with his kicking teams last year, as they ranked first in the entire NFL, according to a point system based on 20 kicking game areas.

Gansz also tutors the Chiefs tight ends, and there was a marked improvement in that area last year. That position accounted for 34 receptions in 1981 compared to 15 the previous season.

Entering his second year with the Chiefs, Gansz came to Kansas City after serving in the same capacity with the Cincinnati Bengals in 1979-80. He began his pro career as kicking teams coach for the San Francisco 49ers in 1978.

"Frank's contributions to the performance of our kicking teams have been outstanding," says Levy. "He is innovative while at the same time being sound. The improved performance by our tight ends last season was largely a result of his outstanding coaching efforts."

A graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, Gansz had widespread collegiate coaching experience before he moved into pro football. A center, guard and linebacker for the Midshipmen from 1957-59, Gansz played on Navy's 1958 Cotton Bowl team. After graduation, he served in the U.S. Air Force as a jet pilot from 1961-66. From 1964-66, he also coached at the Air Force Academy. Gansz was a commercial airline pilot in 1967-68 prior to resuming his coaching career at Colgate.

He was an assistant at Navy from 1969-72, coached at Army in 1974, and in between was on the Oklahoma State staff in 1973 and 1975. His last college stop was UCLA, in 1976-77, before he went to San Francisco.

The 42-year-old Gansz and his wife Barbara have two children, Frank, Jr., 19; and Jennifer, 18. The Gansz family recently moved to the Lee's Summit area.

RON WALLER, Director of Research and Development

Continuously keeping tabs on personnel movements around pro football, Waller is the Chiefs expert in computer analysis, quality control and pro scouting. During the season, he also coordinates Kansas City's future game scouting.

Waller joined the Chiefs staff in 1978 and his intimate knowledge of various semi-professional leagues around the country has resulted in several free agent signings.

A native of Hastings, Fla., Waller served as head coach of the San Diego Chargers during the latter half of the 1973 season. He then was head coach of the WFL Philadelphia Bell in 1974-75 and was an assistant coach under former Notre Dame mentor Ara Parseghian for the final College All-Star Game.

Waller played collegiately at Maryland, graduating with a degree in government and politics. He was a member of Maryland's 1953 national championship squad and earned All-America honors as a senior in 1954. The Los Angeles Rams made him a second round draft pick in 1955, and Waller played four seasons, earning a Pro Bowl selection. Prior to going to the Rams, Waller's College All-Star team defeated the defending NFL champion Cleveland Browns. His playing career ended in 1960 with the Los Angeles Chargers of the AFL.

He's had extensive coaching experience in the semipro football ranks, serving as head coach of the Atlantic Coast Football League Wilmington Clippers and Harrisburg Capitals from 1966-68. In '69, Waller directed the ACFL Pottstown Firebirds. He made contact that year with Marv Levy, then an assistant at Philadelphia. Pottstown won the league championship in both 1969 and '70; in '71, Waller won the ACFL crown with Norfolk prior to going with the Chargers as an assistant coach. The 49-year-old Waller makes his home in the Lakewood section of Lee's Summit.

RICK ABERNETHY, Strength and Conditioning Coordinator

A lifelong Kansas City resident, Abernethy begins his fourth season as coordinator of the Chiefs strength and conditioning program. The 36-year-old Abernethy joined the club prior to the 1979 season. For the second year he will again assist Ron Waller in advance scouting of the Chief's opponents.

Abernethy played college football at the University of Kansas and was a member of the Jayhawks' 1969 Orange Bowl team that met Penn State. Following graduation, he taught and coached at several Kansas City area high schools, including Southwest, Southeast, Center and Ruskin.

"Rick has a very thorough overall background in strength and conditioning. His presence on the staff has been a tremendous asset to our program in developing the players on a year-round basis," says Levy.

Abernethy, wife Rita, a practicing attorney, and daughters Danielle, Stacy and Lindsay, reside in Overland Park.

WAYNE RUDY, Head Trainer

Wayne Rudy, the Chiefs popular head trainer, has been with the team ever since the formation of the American Football League in 1960. Recognized nationally as one of the foremost in his field, Wayne opens his 23rd season with the Texans/Chiefs. He's the only person in the organization who's seen every game—preseason, regular season and play-off—that the Chiefs have ever been involved in.

Rudy has served athletic teams over the past 37 years. A graduate of Bowling Green University, he was inducted into his alma mater's Hall of Fame in 1975. He also holds a master's degree from Southern Methodist University. Rudy was the SMU trainer for 13 years (1947-59) before signing on with the Dallas Texans. One of the athletes he served while at SMU was a seldom-used end named Lamar Hunt, who brought Rudy into pro football upon formation of his new team and league.

Wayne was one of the founders of the Southwest Athletic Trainers Association and twice has been a national director of the National Athletic Trainers Association. He has received countless awards in the training field and in 1974 was named to the Helms Athletic Hall of Fame.

Wayne and his wife, Joan, live in Overland Park.

Wayne's capable assistant is DAVE KENDALL, now in his eighth season. Kendall graduated from Kansas State College at Pittsburg with a degree in physical education. He served as assistant trainer at Pittsburg State. Kendall is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association. Dave and wife Jackie live in Blue Springs. Dave's father-in-law, Jack Christiansen, is an assistant coach with the Seattle Seahawks.

BOBBY YARBOROUGH, Equipment Manager

Bobby Yarborough has been the Chiefs equipment manager the past 22 years. He attended the University of Texas where as student trainer his interest in behind-the-scenes athletics was developed by his association with longtime Longhorns trainer Frank Medina.

Yarborough is a charter member and was one of the original equipment managers in the founding of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association. He served on the Board of Directors for nine years. In 1979, he was named athletic equipment manager of the year. He still serves the AEMA as National Convention Chairman and as publisher of the newsletter "Behind the Cage."

Yarborough also served previously as organizer and director of a Chiefs off-season basketball team that helped raise over a half million dollars for charities throughout the Midwest.

The Yarborough family lives at Lake Winnebago.

PLAYER PERSONNEL STAFF

LES MILLER

Kansas City's procurement of players, via the draft, waiver and free agent route, is the responsibility of player personnel director Les Miller and his four-man staff.

Miller has directed the last seven Chiefs drafts and came to the club after serving three seasons under current Washington general manager Bobby Beathard on the Miami Dolphins scouting staff. In addition to his four full-time scouts, Miller also receives information from the UNITED scouting combine, which the Chiefs joined last year following six years association with BLESTO.

The 45-year-old Miller is a native of Bernice, Oklahoma. He attended Oklahoma State University, then graduated from Kansas State College at Pittsburg with an education degree in 1958. For the next 13 years, Les coached at the high school and college level. He was the head football, basketball and baseball coach at Afton (Okla.) High School from 1958-60 and then coached baseball and football at two Tulsa high schools before accepting a position in private business.

Miller returned to coaching in 1967 as head football coach at Joplin (Mo.) High School. After two seasons, he was named an assistant coach at Brigham Young University in charge of offensive backs until the Dolphins named him to their scouting staff in 1972.

An avid baseball fan, Miller spent two seasons, 1954-55, as a third baseman and outfielder in the New York Yankees farm system.

Les and his wife Joyce have two married children, Mike, 26; and Debbie, 24; in addition to Marty, 13 and Matt, 10. The Millers live in Overland Park.

BOBBY GILL, Talent Scout

A veteran coach in the college ranks, Bobby Gill begins his eighth season on the player personnel staff. The 46-year-old Gill attended Baylor University in his hometown of Waco, Texas. He began his coaching career at Ouachita Baptist in 1958. His next stop was Houston, where he coached under Bill Yeoman from 1962 through 1966.

In 1967, he was named offensive coordinator at Tulsa. New Mexico State hired him, again as offensive coordinator, in 1969, and Gill was with the Aggies through the '71 season. Gill coached at Texas El Paso in 1972-73 and spent the 1974 season with the Detroit Wheels of the now-defunct World Football League. He joined the Chiefs player personnel staff in 1975.

Bobby and his wife, Barbara, live in Overland Park. Barbara is the women's basketball coach at Johnson County Community College.

TOMMY O'BOYLE, Talent Scout

Tommy O'Boyle has been a member of the Chiefs family for the past 16 years. He came to Kansas City in 1966, serving as a talent scout and as an assistant coach under Hank Stram. When Les Miller was hired to reorganize the scouting department in 1975, he added O'Boyle to his staff, solely in the personnel field.

A graduate of Tulane University, O'Boyle was an All-America performer and a number one draft choice of the Chicago Bears in 1940. He did not play pro football; instead, he began his coaching career at his alma mater. O'Boyle later was head coach and athletic director at Southwest Missouri State. He then served as line coach at Kansas State, Duke and Miami (Fla.) before returning to Tulane as an assistant in 1960.

In 1962, O'Boyle was named head coach of the Green Wave. He held that post through the 1965 season, then joined the Chiefs the following year.

Tommy and his wife, Rose Mary, are the parents of five children. They live in Kansas City.

OTIS TAYLOR, Talent Scout

The all-time leading receiver in Chiefs history, Otis Taylor begins his fifth year on the player personnel staff.

Taylor's outstanding play at wide receiver in the 1960s and 70s helped the Chiefs get into two NFL Super Bowls. His lifetime 410 receptions, 7,306 yards receiving and 60 touchdowns all still stand as club records. He also holds the Chiefs single-season receiving yardage record of 1,297.

The 39-year-old Taylor was Kansas City's fourth round draft choice in 1965 from Prairie View. The former All-America was the Chiefs leading receiver in five of his 10 seasons. He was selected to play in the first three AFC-NFC Pro Bowl Games.

This past February, Taylor received the distinguished honor of being inducted into the Chiefs Hall of Fame. He currently resides in Kansas City.

RICK REIPRISH, Talent Scout

Beginning his first year in the Chiefs personnel department is Rick Reiprish, who comes from the pro football scouting combine of Blesto, Inc. The 31-year-old Reiprish had been at Blesto three years, in charge of a six-state area in southeastern United States.

Prior to that, Reiprish was an assistant coach for six years in the collegiate ranks. While finishing up his Masters Degree in administration from Austin Peay, he coached wide receivers in 1973 and running backs from 1974-76. He became the offensive backfield and quarterback coach at East Tennessee State in '77, then moved to North Alabama, where he tutored the offensive line in '78.

A native of Shamokin, Pa., Reiprish and his wife Janet have a two year old son, Drew.

CHIEFS VETERANS

GARY BARBARO • 26

Safety Ht: 6-4 Wt: 210

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3c-1976)

College: Nicholls State

NFL Experience: 7

Birthdate: February 11, 1954

Birthplace: New Orleans, Louisiana

Residence: Metairie, Louisiana

The dean of the Chiefs talented secondary at age 28, Barbaro is aiming for his third straight All-Pro season . . . Stepping in immediately at free safety as a rookie, he has started every game since becoming a member of the Chiefs and has been a big factor in the development of the Kansas City defense . . . He established respect quickly in the NFL and has been recognized for his outstanding play by being selected as a starter on the AFC Pro Bowl team the past two seasons . . . Barbaro finished his sixth pro campaign with 96 tackles, second best on the club, and five interceptions for 134 yards in returns for a team-leading 26.8 average . . . Frequently coming up with the clutch interception, he began the season by preserving the Chiefs victory over Pittsburgh by snatching a Terry Bradshaw pass in the final two minutes, killing the Steelers last hope . . . He also had endzone interceptions versus Oakland and Miami, returning them 33 and 34 yards, respectively . . . His other interceptions came against San Diego (bringing his career total versus the Chargers to eight) and Denver . . . His top tackling output last year was 13 against Chicago . . . In addition to his Pro Bowl appearance, Barbaro was named to the All-NFL team by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. and Professional Football Writers Assn., and to the All-AFC team by Pro Football Weekly, Inside Football and UPI . . . He now has 36 career interceptions, which is just one shy of tying Bobby Hunt for third place on the Chiefs all-time charts . . . He also has compiled 723 career return yards and needs only 19 more to pass Johnny Robinson into second on the Chiefs all-time list . . . Barbaro was the Chiefs third pick of the third round of the 1976 draft and he took over the free safety position from the start as Mike Sensibaugh had been traded . . . He put together an impressive rookie season, making three interceptions, and was named winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award as the Chiefs outstanding first-year player . . . In 1977, he led the club with eight interceptions, including one off Seattle's Jim Zorn which he returned for 102 yards . . . That broke the club record of 99 yards held by Dave Grayson (vs. New York Titans, 1961) and tied the NFL mark previously set by Bob Smith (Detroit, 1949 vs. Chicago Bears) and Erich Barnes (N.Y. Giants, 1961 vs. Dallas) . . . He also was second on the club in tackles that year with 92 . . . In 1978, his totals dropped off a bit (three interceptions, 65 tackles) but he came back in '79 to lead the Chiefs with seven thefts and added 74 tackles . . . In 1980, his first All-Pro season, Barbaro made a career-high 10 interceptions, which ranks second (tie) in club history behind Emmitt Thomas' 12 in 1974 . . . He also was in on 79 tackles that season and was named to UPI's All-AFC team in addition to being selected to the Pro Bowl . . . At Nicholls State, he played wide receiver as a sophomore before being switched to cornerback his final two seasons, intercepting nine passes . . . Barbaro did not play organized football until his senior year at East Jefferson H.S. in Metairie, Louisiana . . . Before that he concentrated on the trombone as a member of the band . . . He credits Nicholls State with helping develop him into a pro-caliber player, saying he probably wouldn't have made it at a major university . . . Majored in physical education . . . Interests include hunting, fishing and working on automobiles . . . Full name: Gary Wayne Barbaro . . . Married, wife Karen, one child.

ED BECKMAN • 85

Tight End Ht: 6-4 Wt: 239

How Acquired: Free Agent (1977)

College: Florida State

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: January 2, 1955

Birthplace: Key West, Florida

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

The Chiefs kicking teams captain the past four years, Beckman has made huge contributions which have often gone unnoticed . . . He was a big factor in the Chiefs kicking teams, which overall ranked first in the entire NFL last year . . . He played in 15 games last season, missing the Chicago game with muscle spasms in his back . . . Beckman was in on 11 tackles (eight unassisted) on kick coverage, bringing his career total to 46 . . . He also blocked a field goal in the Chiefs win versus Denver . . . It was the first field goal block of his pro career, although he had recorded a blocked punt in each of the two previous seasons . . . As a tight end, Beckman has been used mostly on short yardage situations when an extra blocker is needed . . . He has three career receptions, with his last coming in 1979 . . . He played in only nine games that year, as knee surgery sidelined him for the latter half of the season . . . He has returned six kickoffs (three each in '78 and '80) for 112 yards as the "up" man . . . He also was credited with a safety in '78 and a fumble recovery in '80 . . . Beckman was bypassed in the 1977 draft, but was signed by the Chiefs that year as a free agent . . . He made the squad with his blocking skills and special teams play . . . Attended South Miami H.S. . . . Interests include sailing, deep sea fishing and golf . . . Majored in criminology . . . Full name: Edwin Jay Beckman . . . Married, wife Kim.

MIKE BELL • 99

Defensive End Ht: 6-4 Wt: 260

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1a-1979)

College: Colorado State

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: August 30, 1957

Birthplace: Wichita, Kansas

Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Bell put together an outstanding campaign last year, which was his first full injury-free season, and is rapidly becoming one of the better defensive ends in the league . . . Both powerful and quick, Bell has all the tools to join fellow-end Art Still as an All-Pro performer . . . The only thing he lacked prior to last season was playing time, as he spent a good portion of his first two years on injured reserve . . . But he stayed healthy for all 16 games last year and was a punishing defender, both against the run and as a pass rusher . . . He finished the season as the Chiefs third-leading tackler with 77 (59 unassisted) and second in sacks with five for 45 yards in losses . . . His best outing came versus Miami, when he recorded 10 solo tackles . . . He also picked up the second fumble ble recovery of his career during the Chiefs Arrowhead win over Seattle . . . He was a key factor in the Chiefs defense ranking first in the AFC against the run and allowing opponents less than 100 yards rushing in 10 games . . . Bell was the Chiefs first pick of the 1979 draft and the second overall selection in the entire draft . . . He appeared in 11 games his rookie year, missing five at midseason due to a strained knee . . . He totaled 35 tackles, including 5½ sacks for 46 yards in losses . . . His second season was even more frustrating, as he played in only two games before undergoing surgery . . . A bicep muscle in the shoulder area separated from the bone as he was rushing the passer versus Seattle . . . He had eight tackles and 1½ sacks for 10½ yards in losses before being sidelined for the final 14 games . . . In the three years Bell and Still have been teammates, they have played together in only one-half the games (24 of 48) due to one or the other being injured . . . Both on the field at the same time gives Kansas City one of the best defensive end combos in the NFL . . . Bell's career log reads 29 games, 120 tackles and 12 sacks for 101½ yards in losses . . . He had a superb four-year career at Colorado State, but knee surgery at the end of his senior campaign kept him from playing in any of the post-season all-star games for which he had been chosen . . . He was a first team All-America selection by The Sporting News and was named to the second team by AP and UPI . . . He was a unanimous all-Western Athletic Conference choice his final two seasons . . . He racked up an impressive total of 36 sacks during his four years at CSU . . . His twin brother, Mark, is a defensive end for the Seattle Seahawks . . . Because he played in less than three games in 1980, Bell's NFL experience column is listed as his third year . . . Conducted a football camp for youngsters this past June in Wichita, along with teammate Gary Spani, Green Bay's Lynn Dickey and Paul Coffman, New England's Don Calhoun, and Mark Bell . . . Interests include hunting and golf . . . Attended Bishop Carroll H.S. in Wichita, where he began playing football his junior year . . . Majored in business . . . Full name: Mike J. Bell . . . Single.

HORACE BELTON • 35

Running Back Ht: 5-8 Wt: 200

How Acquired: Free Agent (1978)

College: Southeastern Louisiana

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: July 16, 1955

Birthplace: Baton Rouge, Louisiana

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Belton spent the entire 1981 season on the injured reserve list, recovering from knee surgery . . . The fourth-year veteran was coming off his best campaign as a member of the Chiefs, finishing third on the club in rushing with 273 yards in 1980 . . . The versatile performer also caught five passes for 94 yards that year in addition to returning six kickoffs for 110 yards . . . His 1980 season got off to a shaky start, as he was waived prior to opening day, but then was re-signed by the Chiefs in time for the second game . . . He appeared in 14 games overall, including four midseason starts at halfback . . . His first start turned into one of his best Kansas City outings, as he rushed for 47 yards on 12 carries and had his longest career pass reception when he took a screen pass and romped 55 yards to set up a touchdown in the Chiefs win over Detroit . . . In '79, Belton led the Chiefs in kickoff returns with 22 for a 21.0 average, which ranked 10th in the AFC . . . Has developed into an excellent special teams performer during his three seasons with the Chiefs . . . Belton reported to Kansas City as a free agent in 1978, but had previously played for Marv Levy at Montreal in 1977 . . . Played a key role in helping the Alouettes to the Grey Cup Championship that year . . . He was the last cut of Houston in '77 before moving to the CFL . . . Started three years at Southeastern Louisiana and rushed for 1,061 yards . . . Majored in law . . . Attended Scotlandville H.S. in Baton Rouge . . . Full name: Horace Belton . . . Married, wife Gwen.

JERRY BLANTON • 57

Linebacker Ht: 6-1 Wt: 236

How Acquired: Free Agent (1979)

College: Kentucky

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: December 20, 1956

Birthplace: Toledo, Ohio

Residence: Toledo, Ohio

Blanton made the most of the portion of the season he was healthy last year . . . In just nine games, he wrote his name on 66 tackles, which averages out to more than seven per contest . . . He missed the first six games after suffering a strained knee in the final preseason game at Miami . . . Blanton came back in grand style, making his first of nine starts at left inside linebacker and promptly making 10 tackles versus Denver . . . He matched that figure when the two teams met later in the season at Denver . . . His top performance of the year came against Chicago, when he was in on 13 tackles . . . He missed the season finale after reinjuring the same knee versus Miami (again) . . . Blanton signed with the Chiefs as a free agent in 1979 and was one of the club's best kicking teams performers that year and in '80 . . . He backed up Whitney Paul at outside linebacker his first season, then moved to an inside spot in '80 and earned a starting berth the final three games . . . He finished that campaign with 39 tackles . . . Blanton was an 11th round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in '78 . . . After his release, he played briefly with Hamilton of the CFL before reporting to the Chiefs . . . He was a college teammate of Art Still at Kentucky and both played on the defensive line . . . An all-Southeast Conference performer as a senior . . . Majored in criminology . . . Attended DeVilbiss H.S. in Toledo, where he was a fullback and linebacker . . . Full name: Jerry Blanton . . . Single.

CURTIS BLEDSOE • 30

Running Back Ht: 5-11 Wt: 210

How Acquired: Free Agent (1981)

College: San Diego State

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: March 19, 1957

Birthplace: Odessa, Texas

Residence: San Diego, California

After being a late cut by Dallas and Kansas City the past two seasons, Bledsoe re-signed with the Chiefs after the third game last year . . . He replaced Mike Williams who was placed on the injured reserve list following knee surgery . . . In his first professional season, Bledsoe rushed for 65 yards on 20 carries, caught three passes for 27 yards and returned six kickoffs for 117 yards . . . He also played a major role on the Chiefs kicking teams . . . He was inactive in 1980 after being released late in the Cowboys training camp . . . He then signed with

Kansas City as a free agent and lasted until the final cut of last year's camp . . . A month later, he was prepared to sign with Winnipeg of the CFL when the Chiefs came calling . . . He played in the Chiefs final 13 games and saved the best for last . . . In the season finale at Minnesota, he gained 39 yards on 11 carries and caught two passes for 10 yards . . . A versatile running back, Bledsoe played both halfback and fullback during the season . . . At San Diego State, he rushed for 444 yards in two years despite several injuries . . . Before that, he attended Chabot (Calif.) Junior College . . . He gained 521 yards as a freshman but was slowed by injuries his sophomore campaign . . . He was unbeaten as a wrestler at Chabot . . . Attended Mt. Eden H.S. in Hayward, Calif., where he played halfback and also participated on the track and wrestling teams . . . Full name: Curtis Kemp Bledsoe . . . Single.

BRAD BUDDE • 66

Guard Ht: 6-4 Wt: 260

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1-1980)

College: Southern California

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: May 9, 1958

Birthplace: Detroit, Michigan

Residence: Laguna Beach, California

That the Chiefs entire offensive line play improved immensely the same year Budde showed great improvement is no coincidence . . . His development as a "sophomore" was a big factor in the line helping the Chiefs finish first in the AFC in rushing and reducing the number of sacks by 20 from the previous year . . . He started all 16 games at left guard and enters his third season as a pro with a solid hold on that position . . . He is the newest member of the starting offensive line, which provides the Chiefs with the most veterans of any position on the squad . . . Budde was a heralded first round draft pick in 1980, not only because he was the top collegiate lineman in the country that year, but also because his father, Ed, had been an All-Pro guard for the Chiefs (1963-76) . . . It marked the first time in pro football history that a father and son had been drafted in the first round by the same team . . . Brad's rookie campaign was one filled with much pressure, especially until he made his first start the fifth game of the season . . . He didn't start again until the final two contests, although he played in all 16 games . . . Budde capped a brilliant four-year career at Southern California by winning the Lombardi Award, which honors the outstanding collegiate down lineman of the year . . . He became just the second offensive lineman to ever win the award . . . He also was a consensus first team All-America selection and was named UPI's offensive lineman of the year . . . Budde was a four-year starter at USC and was the first freshman to start for the Trojans since World War II . . . During his four seasons, USC went to the Rose Bowl three times and won all three . . . He was a three-time all-Pacific 10 selection before becoming the 11th player chosen in the 1980 draft . . . Budde was a high school All-America at Rockhurst H.S. in Kansas City, where he played both offense and defense . . . As a youngster, he served as a water boy at the Chiefs training camp in Liberty and frequently accompanied his father to workouts . . . Wore his father's number (71) during most of his college career, but selected No. 66 with the Chiefs because 71 was already taken by veteran Dave Lindstrom . . . Majored in public administration . . . Has been very active during the season working with a center for abused children . . . Full name: Brad Edward Budde . . . Married, wife Nicki, one child.

LLOYD BURRUSS • 34

Safety Ht: 6-0 Wt: 202

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3c-1981)

College: Maryland

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: October 31, 1957

Birthplace: Charlottesville, Virginia

Residence: Charlottesville, Virginia

As a rookie safety last year, Burruss was often-times tested by opposing quarterbacks and he passed the test week after week . . . He finished the season with four interceptions and 69 tackles, fourth on the club in both categories, and was voted the winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award as the Chiefs outstanding rookie . . . Appearing in all 16 games, Burruss started 14, including the final 13 contests after replacing Herb Christopher . . . With Burruss coming through impressively at strong safety, he filled the final spot in the Chiefs superb secondary which consists of veterans Gary Barbaro, Gary Green and Eric Harris (all of whom have been recipients of the Mack Lee Hill Award) . . . The first two interceptions of his pro career came versus New England in the fifth game of the season . . . He had the Chiefs only interception return for a touchdown, picking off a Jim Zorn pass and racing 46 yards in the romp over Seattle in Arrowhead . . . His best day might have come at the expense of Denver, when he made a diving interception, deflected two other passes and made nine tackles . . . Burruss and Joe Delaney were the only rookie starters for the Chiefs last year . . . He was also used occasionally on kickoff returns, running back five for 91 yards, an 18.2 average . . . He was Kansas City's third choice of the third round in last year's draft, coming on a pick obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in a 1980 trade for Walter White . . . A four-year starter at Maryland, he totaled nine interceptions and 160 tackles during his career . . . He was redshirted in '79 due to a broken ankle, but came back in '80 to record an outstanding senior campaign . . . He was a first team all-Atlantic Coast Conference selection and an honorable mention All-America choice by AP . . . He was a starter in four bowl games for the Terrapins: the Cotton, Hall of Fame, Sun and Tangerine . . . Burruss also was a solid kicking teams performer at Maryland, blocking five kicks and returning 41 punts for a 5.4 average during his career . . . His first collegiate start came against Clemson, which was being quarterbacked by Steve Fuller . . . Attended Charlottesville H.S. where he was a prep All-America in football and track . . . As a trackster, he competed in the 440, 880, relays, long jump, triple jump and shot put . . . Enjoys hunting and fishing . . . Full name: Lloyd Earl Burruss, Jr. . . . Married during the offseason, wife Pamela.

CARLOS CARSON • 88

Wide Receiver Ht: 5-10 Wt: 174

How Acquired: Draft (No. 5a-1980)

College: Louisiana State

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: December 28, 1958

Birthplace: Lake Worth, Florida

Residence: Grandview, Missouri

After a very promising start, Carson broke his left leg in the third game last year and wasn't able to return until the second to last game of the regular season . . . In the season opener, he teamed with Bill Kenney for a 53-yard touchdown pass that helped the Chiefs knock off Pittsburgh . . . In the next two contests, he caught two passes for 35 yards versus Tampa Bay and one for 13 against San Diego before going down . . . He also returned nine kickoffs in the first three games for a 22.9 average . . . He missed the next 11 games before being activated for the Miami game . . . He saw limited action in that contest, but started the season finale at Minnesota due to an injury to J. T. Smith . . . He responded by making three grabs for 78 yards, including a 53-yarder . . . Levy says he saw "great signs" in Carson when he was healthy . . . The fastest player among veteran wide receivers, he finished the season with seven catches for 179 yards and a 25.6 average (best on club) in five games . . . The speedster from LSU has proven himself a deep threat and will figure prominently in the Chiefs aerial plans in '82 . . . Two years ago, he was mainly a kick return specialist and finished fifth in the AFC with a 22.9 average on 40 returns . . . That was only one shy of the Chiefs record for most returns in one season held by Noland Smith (1967) . . . His 917 yardage total was second in team history to Smith's '67 total of 1,148 yards . . . Carson was the 114th player selected in the 1980 draft and was taken by the Chiefs on a choice obtained from Baltimore . . . He caught five passes for 68 yards in his rookie season . . . At LSU, he caught 89 passes in three varsity seasons, bursting into prominence as a sophomore . . . He set school records in '77 by scoring five touchdowns in a five-catch, 201-yard performance vs. Rice; caught another TD pass the following week to set an NCAA record for consecutive passes caught for touchdowns . . . Corralled a school record 10 scoring passes that year and 14 overall . . . Played on LSU's '79 Tangerine Bowl team and competed in the Hula and Japan Bowl all-star games . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Leonard H.S. in Lake Worth, Fla. . . Full name: Carlos A. Carson . . . Married, wife Wilma, one child born this spring.

College: Penn State

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: August 14, 1958

Birthplace: Jacksonville, N.C.

Residence: Doylestown, Pa.

Case saw action in the first seven Chiefs games before straining his knee versus Denver and spending the rest of the season on injured reserve . . . Prior to the injury, he had performed primarily on special teams, although he did have six tackles from his defensive end position . . . His best outing came in the same game which cut his rookie season short, when he had three unassisted tackles against the Broncos . . . Case was an 11th round draft choice by the Chiefs in 1981 after a four-year career at Penn State . . . As a senior, he was in on 25 tackles and had two quarterback sacks in a season which ended with the Nittany Lions in the Fiesta Bowl . . . Missed four games that year with a sprained knee . . . Also played middle guard during his collegiate career . . . Attended Central Bucks H.S. in Doylestown, Pa., where he earned All-America honors . . . Also played prep basketball . . . Grew up in unusual surroundings, living in a Bucks County prison where his father was a warden and his mother a matron . . . Majored in speech communication at Penn State . . . How Acquired: Free Agent (1981)

College: Rutgers

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: September 12, 1959

Birthplace: Riverside, New Jersey

Residence: Palmyra, New Jersey

Cherry will battle for a backup spot in the defensive backfield after signing as a free agent with the Chiefs last year . . . Seeing action in 13 games, he made his first pro interception by picking off a Marc Wilson pass in Kansas City's win over Oakland . . . He was the only non-starting player of the Chiefs secondary to make an interception last season . . . He made six tackles and was a solid performer on the Chiefs league-leading kicking teams . . . Cherry was originally signed as a punter, but was moved to the secondary during training camp . . . He was released on the final cutdown to 45 players, but was re-signed on September 23 when the club made several moves due to injuries . . . At Rutgers, Cherry was a strong safety and punter, earning AP All-East honors in 1979-80 . . . Majored in biology . . . Hopes to eventually attend dental school . . . Attended Palmyra H.S. in Palmyra, N.J., where he was a quarterback and played basketball and baseball . . . Full name: Deron Leigh Cherry . . . Single.

How Acquired: Free Agent (1979)

College: Morris Brown

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: April 7, 1954

Birthplace: Thomasville, Georgia

Residence: College Park, Georgia

Christopher returns for his fourth season with the Chiefs to provide valuable backup to the defensive secondary . . . After a very strong '80 campaign, he relinquished his starting strong safety job to Lloyd Buruss following the third game last year . . . He finished the season with 11 tackles, all unassisted and played most of the time as the Chiefs "nickel" back . . . He did not intercept any passes, but he did recover a fumbled punt versus San Diego . . . In the first meeting with the Chargers, he made five solo stops . . . Christopher had started 23 consecutive games at strong safety before a thigh injury kept him from opening the second game of the season versus Tampa Bay . . . His best season as a pro came in 1980, when he was in on 78 tackles (53 unassisted) and made two interceptions for 25 yards in returns while starting every game . . . He signed with the Chiefs in '79, was released during training camp, then re-signed again when Jerry Reese was lost for the year with a midseason injury . . . Christopher appeared in nine games that year, starting the final six, and made two interceptions and 25 tackles . . . Began his NFL career as a free agent with Denver in '78, but was released . . . Played baseball and football at Morris Brown College . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Magnolia H.S. in Thomasville, Ga. . . . Full name: Herbert Christopher . . . Single.

TOM CONDON • 65*Guard Ht: 6-3 Wt: 275*How Acquired: Draft (No. 10-1974)College: Boston CollegeNFL Experience: 9Birthdate: October 26, 1952Birthplace: Derby, ConnecticutResidence: Kansas City, Missouri

Condon's strength and durability have made him a mainstay in the Chiefs offensive line the past six years . . . Starting all 16 games at right guard last year, he has now started in 88 consecutive contests . . . He and Gary Barbaro own the longest current consecutive games (92) streak of any Chiefs players, having played in every game since 1976 . . . Entering his ninth season, Condon has played in 115 Chiefs games, second on the team next to Jack Rudnay . . . He was part of a vastly improved offensive line last year, which paved the way for the Kansas City running attack to rank first in the AFC . . . The line also reduced the number of quarterback sacks to 37, compared to 57 in 1980 . . . A 10th round draft choice in 1974, Condon made the team as a special teams player, then earned a starting spot in 1975 . . . He missed the final eight games of the '75 season after undergoing knee surgery, but has remained healthy ever since . . . Possessing tremendous upper body strength, he placed second in the NFL's strongest man competition a year ago and is considered to be the strongest player on the Chiefs squad . . . A top-notch weight-lifting program has helped him gain considerable body weight since the beginning of his career . . . Condon started his law career in Kansas City this past off-season after passing his bar exam last fall . . . He had spent the five previous off-seasons at law school, first at the University of Baltimore and then at the University of Missouri-Kansas City, where he earned his law degree . . . He was a consistent dean's list scholar as an undergraduate at Boston College, majoring in sociology and philosophy . . . He went to BC without a football scholarship, but increased his weight from 190 pounds to 220 and won a starting berth at guard as a sophomore . . . Serves as the Chiefs player representative and is a member of the NFL Players Association's executive committee . . . Attended Notre Dame H.S. in West Haven, Conn. . . Full name: Thomas J. Condon . . . Married, wife Virginia, one child.

JOE DELANEY • 37*Running Back Ht: 5-10 Wt: 184*How Acquired: Draft (No. 2-1981)College: NW LouisianaNFL Experience: 2Birthdate: October 30, 1958Birthplace: Henderson, TexasResidence: Haughton, Louisiana

Delaney's sensational 1,121-yard rookie season created the most excitement in Kansas City since the Super Bowl IV championship of 1970 . . . Setting four new Chiefs rushing records, his lightning-quick speed and dazzling open-field running left many NFL defenders in amazement . . . The only rookie starter on the AFC Pro Bowl squad, Delaney was selected to practically every post-season team possible . . . He led the Chiefs to the second-most rushing yards in club history, 2,633, which ranked first in the AFC, and was voted as the Chiefs most valuable player by his teammates . . . The key to Kansas City's offense, Delaney shattered records for most yards in a season (1,121), most yards in a game (193 vs. Houston), most consecutive 100-yard-plus games (3) and most 100-yard games in a season (5) . . . His 1,121 yards ranked third in the AFC and was the seventh-best for a rookie in NFL history behind George Rogers (1,674), Ottis Anderson (1,605), Earl Campbell (1,450), Billy Sims (1,303), Joe Cribbs (1,185) and Don Woods (1,162) . . . He also averaged an impressive 4.8 yards per carry, which ranked first in the AFC among runners who had 200 or more carries . . . A second round draft choice, Delaney began the season as a backup to veteran

Ted McKnight . . . When McKnight was knocked out for the season with an injury during the fifth game, Delaney took over and was an immediate sensation . . . He rushed for 101 yards on 18 attempts that game . . . In his first start the next week versus Oakland, he carried the ball 28 times for 106 yards and caught three passes for 104 yards . . . He became just the second player in franchise history to top the 100-yard mark in both rushing and receiving in a single game; Tony Reed turned the trick in 1979 against the New York Giants . . . The following Sunday versus Denver, Delaney treated the Arrowhead crowd to his record third straight 100-yard-plus performance, a 21-carry, 149-yard effort . . . It included an 82-yard touchdown sprint, the longest run in the NFL last year and the second longest in Chiefs history, two yards short of McKnight's record 84-yarder against Seattle in 1979 . . . Delaney also had a 70-yard jaunt called back because of a penalty in that game . . . His biggest day came week 11 versus Houston when he rambled for a club-record 193 yards, breaking the mark previously held by Mike Garrett of 192 yards versus the New York Jets in 1967 . . . Delaney's record output came on 29 carries, which was just one shy of tying Woody Green's record of 30 rushes against the New York Giants in 1974 . . . Delaney went over the 1,000-yard plateau at Detroit week 13 and moved past Garrett's seasonal total of 1,087 yards at Denver week 14 . . . All of Delaney's accomplishments came in 15 games, as he missed the season finale due to a rib injury . . . He also missed three quarters of the next to last game versus Miami, and the second half of two others because of various injuries . . . He carried the ball 234 times, two short of the club record 236 by Mike Garrett in 1967 . . . A reliable receiver as well, Delaney caught 22 passes for 246 yards and an 11.2 average, with his longest a 61-yarder versus Oakland . . . He scored three touchdowns on the season, all rushing . . . In addition to being named to the Pro Bowl and the Chiefs MVP, Delaney was selected as the AFC Rookie of the Year by his peer group, the NFL Players Association, as well as UPI, Inside Football, and College and Pro Football Newsweekly . . . He was chosen to NFL all-rookie teams by UPI, Pro Football Writers Assn., and Football Digest . . . He also was named to the All-AFC first team by UPI, Inside Football and Pro Football Weekly . . . Considered the "steal" of the 1981 draft, Delaney was the 41st player selected . . . His 4.4 speed enabled him to rush for a record 3,047 yards during his brilliant four-year career at Northwest Louisiana, surpassing the old mark held by Sidney Thornton, now of the Pittsburgh Steelers . . . He rushed for 1,110 yards in 10 games as a senior and was named to the Coaches 1980 first-team Division I-AA All-America team . . . He also was chosen to play in the Blue-Gray Game and the Senior Bowl . . . He gained 100 or more yards 11 times during his collegiate career and had three 200-yard-plus games, including back-to-back 253 and 231-yard efforts . . . He caught 66 career passes for 692 yards, a 10.5 average and four touchdowns . . . His 3,047 yards came on 615 totes, for a 5.0 average and 27 TD's . . . Delaney also was an outstanding trackster at NW Louisiana, setting school records in the 100 (10.3) and 200 (20.6) meters . . . He was part of the 400-meter relay team which won the NCAA title in 39.3 seconds in 1981 . . . He achieved All-America status in track as well as football . . . Attended Haughton H.S. in Haughton, La., where he was a wide receiver and cornerback . . . Underwent surgery this past May to repair a detached retina in his eye . . . Full name: Joe Alton Delaney . . . Married, wife Carolyn, two children.

When the Chiefs selected tight ends in the first and third rounds of the draft last year, Dixon figured he would have to win a starting berth in order to make the squad. Through determination he did just that . . . A reserve during his first two seasons with the Chiefs, he had an excellent preseason last summer and earned the starting nod at tight end . . . He went on to have by far the best season of his career, catching 29 passes for 356 yards and two touchdowns . . . Not only did Dixon increase his receiving statistics, but he improved tremendously as a blocker with the help of tight end coach Frank Gansz . . . He started all but three games last year, with injuries limiting him in those three . . . His best performance was a six-catch, 86-yard effort at Denver, which included receptions of 48 and 19 yards to set up the Chiefs touchdown . . . The next week versus Miami, he grabbed five passes for 42 yards . . . Earlier in the season, he caught five passes in the second half for 67 yards in the Chiefs dramatic come-from-behind victory over Oakland . . . Dixon enters the '82 campaign as the Chiefs No. 1 tight end, but he will have plenty of competition from second-year men Willie Scott and Marvin Harvey . . . Dixon first came to Kansas City in 1979, signing for the final three games of the season and starting in one . . . He was released during the '80 training camp, but re-signed following the waiver of starter Tony Samuels and played in the final 12 games of the season as a reserve . . . He caught seven passes for 115 yards and a touchdown that year . . . Dixon was a seventh-round draft choice by the New York Giants in 1977 . . . A knee injury hampered him as a rookie, but he won the starting tight end job with the Giants in 1978 and caught 18 passes . . . The Giants let him go early in the '79 season . . . He was a three-year letterman in football at Iowa State and was a second team all-Big Eight selection as a senior . . . Also lettered twice in varsity basketball and once in baseball, the only Cyclone athlete to earn letters in three major sports the entire time he was in school . . . Majored in child psychology . . . Attended East St. Louis H.S. in East St. Louis, Illinois, and was the first in his high school's history to win all-state recognition in both football and basketball . . . Operates his own insurance agency during the off-season . . . Full name: Albert D. Dixon . . . Single.

STEVE FULLER • 4

Quarterback Ht: 6-4 Wt: 198

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1b-1979)

College: Clemson

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: January 5, 1957

Birthplace: Enid, Oklahoma

Residence: Spartanburg, South Carolina

After winning back his starting job at the end of last year, Fuller is hoping to prove he is the quarterback to lead the Chiefs to the playoffs in 1982 . . . But again, he will have to square off with Bill Kenney for the No. 1 spot . . . A preseason knee injury last August put Fuller behind and led to a frustrating year until he took over as the starter for the final three games . . . Although he played in 13 contests, he only saw action at quarterback in six of them, acting as a holder on kicks in all the others . . . He finished the campaign with 934 yards passing, completing 77 of 134 attempts (.575) and three touchdowns . . . He also rushed for 118 yards on 19 carries . . . Fuller injured his right knee in the first half of the Chiefs first exhibition game at Washington . . . He underwent arthroscopic surgery and missed the rest of the preseason and the first three games of the regular season . . . His first call at QB came in game eight at Oakland, where he entered late in the third quarter with the Chiefs trailing 17-0 and engineered three touchdown drives in all three possessions to bail out a 28-17 victory . . . He completed nine of 10 passes for 103 yards and kept the Raiders off balance by running three times for 43 yards in the short stint . . . Two weeks later, he replaced Kenney in the second half versus Chicago with the Chiefs trailing and tied the game to send it into overtime, only to lose in the extra period . . . He subbed for the third time at Detroit and threw for 131 yards in the second half . . . Fuller then earned the starting spot for the final three contests and looked impressive, throwing for 612 yards in those three . . . His best was his first start at Denver, as he completed 18 of 34 attempts for 261 yards . . . Versus Miami, he connected on 21 of 37 passes for 206 yards and rushed eight times for 42 more . . . In the season finale at Minnesota, he hooked up with Carlos Carson for a 53-yard completion, his longest of the season, while throwing for 145 yards . . . Marv Levy says Fuller's arm became much stronger and made tremendous improvement last year . . . His 1981 campaign was the reversal of the '80 season, as he started the first 13 games that year before arthroscopic surgery on his left knee sidelined him for the final three contests . . . Despite missing those three games, he finished as the AFC's fourth-rated quarterback, throwing for 2,250 yards and 10 touchdowns while completing over 60 percent of his passes (193 of 320) . . . He also was the Chiefs second-leading rusher for the season, carrying 60 times for 274 yards and four TD's . . . He surpassed the 200-yard passing plateau three times during that year, with his top output a 223-yard (19 of 26) effort at Seattle . . . As a rookie in '79, Fuller played in 14 games, two as a holder and the rest at quarterback . . . In his NFL debut versus Cleveland in the second game of the season, he brought the Chiefs back from a 20-point deficit in the second half to a 24-20 lead, only to see his team lose in the closing moments . . . He went on to start 12 games, passing for 1,484 yards . . . Fuller now ranks third on the Chiefs all-time charts for career completions (416) and attempts (724), fourth in career yards (4,668) and touchdowns (19), and has completed an impressive 57.5 percent of all his passes . . . He was the Chiefs second pick of the first round of the 1979 draft and was the 23rd player taken overall . . . The Chiefs took him on a pick obtained from Houston in exchange for Kansas City's 1979 and 1980 No. 2 selections . . . With those choices, the Oilers drafted DT Mike Stensrud and T Angelo Fields . . . Fuller enjoyed a superb four-year career at Clemson, where he completed 287 of 554 passes for 4,359 yards, 22 touchdowns and 21 interceptions . . . He also rushed for 1,737 yards on 535 carries and 22 more TD's . . . He was the Atlantic Coast Conference player of the year in '77 and '78 . . . His senior year, Fuller led Clemson to an 11-1 record and a Gator Bowl victory over Ohio State, and finished sixth in the Heisman Trophy balloting . . . He earned Honorable Mention All-America honors from The Sporting News and was a third team All-America choice by AP . . . He set Clemson records for career passing yardage (4,359), single-season passing (1,655 as a junior) and single-season total offense (2,164 as a senior) . . . Fuller was a candidate for a Rhodes Scholarship before removing his name from consideration to concentrate on a pro football career . . . Majored in history . . . Attended Spartanburg H.S. in Spartanburg, S.C., where he graduated as class valedictorian . . . Full name: Stephen Ray Fuller . . . Single.

BOB GAGLIANO • 11

Quarterback Ht: 6-3 Wt: 193

How Acquired: Draft (No. 12-1981)

College: Utah State

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: September 5, 1958

Birthplace: Los Angeles, California

Residence: Glendale, California

Like most rookie quarterbacks, Gagliano spent his initial season charting the games on the sidelines and quarterbacking the scout teams during practice . . . The third-string QB did not play in a regular season game last year, but nonetheless learned a great deal about the professional game . . . He's in a similar position many quality NFL quarterbacks, including the Chiefs own Bill Kenney, were in at the beginning of their careers, just waiting for their chance . . . Chiefs coaches believe Gagliano has the talent and competitiveness to make it in the pro ranks . . . He did make an appearance during the preseason, completing 12 of 25 passes for 131 yards in the second half versus Miami . . . A 12th round draft choice by the Chiefs last year, Gagliano was cut during the preseason but re-signed the next day when an injured reserve addition opened up a spot on the active roster . . . His collegiate career began at Glendale (Calif.) Junior College, where he was a Juco All-America in 1977 . . . He sat out the 1978 season, then transferred to United States International University, establishing several school records in throwing for over 2,200 yards and 17 touchdowns . . . But at the end of that season, USIU dropped its football program and Gagliano transferred to Utah State . . . He was eligible immediately and as a senior he completed 184 of 345 attempts for 2,365 yards and 20 touchdowns . . . Attended Hoover H.S. in Glendale . . . Psychology major in college . . . Enjoys hiking . . . Full name: Robert Frank Gagliano . . . Single.

CLARK GAINES • 21

Running Back Ht: 6-1 Wt: 214

How Acquired: Waivers (N.Y. Jets-1981)

College: Wake Forest

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: February 1, 1954

Birthplace: Elberton, Georgia

Residence: Freeport, N.Y.

If Gaines can remain healthy he will give the Chiefs running attack an additional weapon . . . The Chiefs claimed him on waivers from the New York Jets late last year (Dec. 10) . . . He had been on the Jets injured reserve list all of the 1981 season recovering from a broken leg suffered in the fifth game of the 1980 campaign . . . Despite playing in only five games in '80, Gaines finished as the Jets second leading pass receiver with 36 receptions for 310 yards . . . He caught 17 of those in one game versus San Francisco, setting a new Jets and AFC record and finishing only one shy of the NFL record set in 1950 by Tom Fears of the Los Angeles Rams . . . At the time of his injury he led the NFL in receptions . . . His best season rushing was in 1979 when he gained 905 yards on 186 carries, which ranked fourth in the AFC . . . He tied for the AFC lead in yards per attempt (4.9) that season . . . Gaines signed with the Jets in 1976 as a free agent after being bypassed in the draft . . . As a rookie that season, he led all NFL first-year rushers with 724 yards . . . He made every NFL all-rookie team and was selected AFC Offensive Rookie of the Year by the NFL Players Association . . . He led New York in '76 and '77 in both rushing and receiving, becoming the first Jet in history to do so . . . He had four 100-yard rushing games in '76 and one in '77 . . . Gaines was plagued by injuries during the 1978 season, but recorded a top year in '79 and was off to a good start in '80 before the season-ending leg injury versus New England . . . He had 2,552 career yards with the Jets, which ranks fifth on the club's all-time list . . . He appeared in the Chiefs finale at Minnesota last year, but did not handle the ball . . . At Wake Forest, Gaines rushed for 1,258 yards in two seasons . . . Before that, he played two years at Lees-McRae Junior College in Banner Elk, N.C. . . . He battled injuries throughout his collegiate career . . . He has a B.S. degree in physical education . . . He serves now as the Chiefs co-player representative for the NFLPA along with Tom Condon . . . Full name: Clark Gaines . . . Married, wife Kat, two children.

CHARLIE GETTY ● 77

Tackle Ht: 6-4 Wt: 270

How Acquired: Draft (No. 2-1974)

College: Penn State

NFL Experience: 9

Birthdate: July 24, 1952

Birthplace: Paterson, New Jersey

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Entering his ninth season on the Chiefs offensive line, Getty is coming off one of his strongest performances ever . . . Starting all 16 games at right tackle, he was instrumental in the line becoming one of the most improved areas on the team . . . The line was a key ingredient in the Chiefs compiling the most total offense yards in club history, and at the same time reduced the number of quarterback sacks . . . Getty's outstanding season came after a very frustrating 1980 campaign, where two separate injuries restricted him to only six games . . . A strained knee in training camp kept him out of the first four contests . . . After returning, he regained his starting spot for six games before a freak accident ended his season . . . During pre-game warmups he collided with Stan Rome, who was running a pass pattern, and severed an artery in his nose . . . He underwent surgery after experiencing problems with stopping the bleeding . . . Prior to those injuries, Getty had not missed a game since becoming a pro . . . In all, he has played in 110 Chiefs games, third on the team next to Jack Rudnay and Tom Condon . . . He was a second round draft choice in 1974 and played both tackle and guard his first several years . . . He started off and on until 1978 when he became a permanent fixture at right tackle . . . Getty was a two-year starter at Penn State and played right tackle in three consecutive bowl appearances (Cotton in 1972, Sugar in '73, Orange in '74) . . . He also was an outstanding collegiate wrestler, finishing fifth in the 1973 NCAA championships and improving to third in '74 . . . Majored in physical education and recreation . . . Attended Pompton Lakes H.S.

in Pompton Lakes, N.J., where he competed in football, wrestling and track . . . Getty is extremely active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has numerous speaking engagements on behalf of church and youth groups . . . Also does a weekly radio show on KCNW Radio in Kansas City . . . Full name: Charles Matthew Getty . . . Married, wife Carol.

JEFF GOSSETT 7

Punter Ht: 6-2 Wt: 197

How Acquired: Free Agent (1981)

College: Eastern Illinois

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: January 25, 1957

Birthplace: Charleston, Illinois

Residence: Charleston, Illinois

Gossett's entrance into the NFL last November was sudden . . . He went from being a furniture store salesman to being the No. 1 punter on a playoff contending team . . . He was signed by the Chiefs prior to the Chicago Bears game as a free agent after Bob Grupp was moved to the injured reserve list . . . Gossett immediately stepped in as the Chiefs only punter in the final seven games of the season . . . In his first regular season pro experience, he punted 29 times for a 39.3 average . . . In his first game, he nailed three of his six punts inside Chicago's 20-yard line and ended the day with a 38.8 average . . . His best performance was at Denver when he punted four times for a 44.0 average, including a season-long 55-yarder . . . Before signing with Kansas City, Gossett had tried but missed twice with other NFL clubs . . . After being bypassed in the 1980 draft, he signed with the Dallas Cowboys as a free agent but was cut in training camp . . . He then signed with the San Diego Chargers as a free agent in 1981 and appeared to have the punting job sewed up when the Chargers swung a trade with Miami for George Roberts just days before the opening of the regular season, and Gossett was let go . . . At Eastern Illinois, he led the NCAA Division II in punting as a sophomore in 1977 with a 43.1 average on 66 kicks . . . Also an excellent baseball player, Gossett was selected in the fourth round of the college baseball draft by the New York Mets in 1978 . . . He spent the '78 and '79 seasons in the Mets farm system (Class A) as a third baseman . . . Lettered three years at Eastern Illinois in both football and baseball . . . Played football, basketball and baseball at Charleston (Ill.) H.S. before continuing his education at EIU in his hometown . . . Full name: Jeff Alan Gossett . . . Single.

GARY GREEN • 24

Cornerback Ht: 5-11 Wt: 191

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1-1977)

College: Baylor

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: October 22, 1955

Birthplace: San Antonio, Texas

Residence: San Antonio, Texas

Putting together his third straight sensational season, Green finally received some well-deserved recognition by being named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad . . . He has developed into one of the most feared cornerbacks in the NFL, with opposing quarterbacks throwing away from him frequently . . . He finished the 1981 campaign with five interceptions, bringing his career totals to 16 . . . He intercepted two passes in the second half at Oakland, helping the Chiefs to a dramatic come-from-behind victory . . . The next week at San Diego, he had an interception and recovered a fumble . . . His other thefts came against Houston and the season finale at Minnesota, where he made a spectacular one-handed catch and returned it 16 yards . . . He also made 55 tackles during the year, 44 unassisted . . . In addition to Pro Bowl honors, Green was named to the Newspaper Enterprise Assn. All-Pro Team, the United Press International All-AFC First Team, the Inside Football All-AFC Team and the Pro Football Weekly All-AFC Team . . . In 1980, he intercepted two passes and was in on 45 tackles in being named to Football Digest's All-Pro Team . . . Excelling in special teams play as well, he was the only Chief to block a field goal, PAT and punt that year . . . His 1979 campaign included five interceptions for 148 yards in returns, with one being a career-long 57-yarder, and 59 tackles . . . He recorded 53 tackles in '78 along with an interception and two fumble recoveries . . . He has started every game at left cornerback the past four years for a running total of 64 in a row . . . He has teamed with Eric Harris the past two seasons to give Kansas City one of the best corner tandems in the league . . . Green wasted no time in becoming accustomed to the NFL his rookie season of '77, starting in 10 games and intercepting three passes and making 45 tackles . . . He also returned 14 punts that year and compiled a team-high 8.2 return average . . . He was voted the Mack Lee Hill Award winner that year as the Chiefs outstanding rookie . . . A first round draft choice in '77, Green was the 10th player taken in that draft, and became the only cornerback except for Jim Marsalis to be selected by the Chiefs in the first round . . . He was a first-team All-America performer at Baylor and played in the Shrine East-West Game and the Senior Bowl . . . Majored in physical education and minored in speech/radio-television . . . Attended Sam Houston H.S. in San Antonio . . . Full name: Gary F. Green . . . Single.

BOB GRUPP • 1

Punter Ht: 5-11 Wt: 192

How Acquired: Free Agent (1979)

College: Duke

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: May 8, 1955

Birthplace: Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Residence: Newtown, Pennsylvania

After battling injuries last year, Grupp will be trying to regain the form which earned him All-Pro status as a rookie in 1979 . . . He was bothered by a muscle pull in his upper leg before last season even began, practically wiping out any off-season work . . . He recovered in time to take care of the punting chores through the first nine games, but then he suffered a shoulder separation during a special teams drill in practice . . . He was placed on the injured reserve list and missed the final seven games of the season . . . Grupp's nine-game statistics were not as impressive as his first two campaigns, as he averaged just 38.0 yards per punt on 41 tries . . . In addition to his injuries, Grupp admitted to some "mechanical" problems which hindered his performance in '81 . . . His most productive afternoon was versus Tampa Bay, when he punted seven times for a 43.3 average, including a season-long 57-yarder and another 52-yard boot . . . In his nine games, he had six kicks of over 50 yards and he pinned the ball inside the opponents 20-yard line five times . . . In 1982, Grupp would like a repeat performance of his '79 season, which was one of the NFL's Cinderella stories . . . After failing to make the New York Jets on two separate attempts, he signed with the Chiefs and ousted incumbent Zenon Andrusyshyn . . . In his first NFL outing, he set a club record with 11 punts for 511 yards versus Baltimore . . . That effort boosted him into the NFL punting lead and he held onto that top spot the remainder of the season . . . He set the Chiefs record with 89 punts that season and he also broke the club record for the longest punt with a 74-yard bomb versus San Diego . . . He was named the AFC's punter for the Pro Bowl, breaking a six-year reign by Oakland's Ray Guy . . . In 1980, Grupp's average dropped to 39.5, but he remained first in the AFC and second in the NFL in boots inside the 20-yard line with 23 . . . His best game that season came versus Baltimore, when he punted six times for a 45.3 average and was awarded a game ball by his teammates . . . Grupp was a seventh round draft choice by the Jets in 1977 . . . After being released, he went briefly to Calgary of the CFL, but a shoulder injury curtailed the rest of that year . . . He tried out again with New York in 1978 before signing with the Chiefs . . . Grupp credits his change from a three-step punter to the two-step method as the main reason he became successful after failing twice . . . He learned the two-step technique from retired punter Ray Pelfrey . . . In addition to making the Pro Bowl, Grupp's 1979 honors included being named for the Mack Lee Hill Award as the team's outstanding rookie . . . He was a first team selection by Pro Football Weekly and was that publication's choice for its "Golden Toe" award, presented to the top kicking specialist each year . . . He also was a second-team all-NFL choice by AP, and UPI named him to its all-rookie and all-AFC squad . . . The right-footed punter was a two-time all-Atlantic Coast Conference selection at Duke, finishing college with a 40.4 career punting average . . . Also played baseball at Duke, earning team MVP honors in 1976 . . . A six-time participant in Punt, Pass and Kick competition . . . A graduate of Neshaminy H.S. in Langhorne, Pa., which also produced kickers Chris (Oakland) and Matt Bahr (Cleveland) . . . Excellent racquetball player . . . Full name: Robert William Grupp . . . Single.

JAMES HADNOT • 48

Running Back Ht: 6-2 Wt: 245

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3-1980)

College: Texas Tech

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: July 11, 1957

Birthplace: Jasper, Texas

Residence: Lubbock, Texas

Not uncommon for a fullback, Hadnot enjoyed an outstanding season a year ago but was overshadowed by a more publicized running back . . . With teammate Joe Delaney capturing the majority of exposure for the Chiefs in '81, Hadnot quietly did his job of leading the way with blocks and getting the tough yardage inside . . . Tremendously improved from his rookie season, he more than doubled his statistical output, rushing for 603 yards and catching 23 passes for 215 yards . . . He started every game for the Chiefs except for the last one of the season when he was slowed by an ankle injury . . . Although just in his second year of professional football, Hadnot assumed a leadership role for the Chiefs when veteran running backs Ted McKnight, Horace Belton and Mike Williams went to the injured reserve list . . . His 603 yards, which ranked 16th in the AFC and fourth among fullbacks, came on 140 carries, which worked out to an impressive average of 4.3 yards per tote . . . His best rushing day came in Arrowhead Stadium versus Seattle when he threaded the Seahawk defense for 106 yards on only 10 carries . . . 83 of those yards were in the second half as the Chiefs swamped Seattle 40-13 . . . Earlier in the season, when Delaney was busy galloping for back-to-back-to-back 100-yard rushing games. Hadnot did his share by gaining 64, 57 and 56 yards, respectively, in those same three games in addition to his blocking duties . . . He also became more frequently used as a receiver out of the backfield as the season progressed . . . Eleven of his 23 receptions came in the final four games he was healthy . . . His biggest receiving games were four for 24 yards versus Miami, and three catches for 40 yards the preceding game at Denver . . . Levy says the improved performance of Hadnot at fullback in '81 was a big factor in the Chiefs leap forward in the running game . . . Hadnot was the Chiefs third-round draft choice and the club's second pick overall in the 1980 draft . . . He was the 66th overall selection that year . . . He earned a starting spot at fullback during the final five games of his rookie season, carrying for 207 of his seasonal 244 yards in that span . . . His best game of the campaign was in his first start, when he gained 64 yards on 19 carries at St. Louis . . . He also caught 15 passes for 97 yards that year, with his best outing a six-catch, 32-yard performance versus Cincinnati . . . Hadnot recorded a banner collegiate career at Texas Tech, setting the school record for career rushing yardage with 2,794 yards on 532 carries . . . He was eighth in NCAA rushing as a senior, carrying 273 times for a school record 1,371 yards . . . He also set the school's single-game rushing record, 268 yards on 28 carries versus New Mexico in 1978 . . . Hadnot began his college career as a tight end, but was switched to fullback before his junior year . . . After the switch, he led the Southwest Conference in rushing his last two seasons . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Jasper H.S. in Jasper, Tex., lettering in football, track and basketball . . . Full name: James W. Hadnot . . . Single.

ERIC HARRIS • 44

Cornerback Ht: 6-3 Wt: 202

How Acquired: Draft (No. 4d-1977)

College: Memphis State

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: August 11, 1955

Birthplace: Memphis, Tennessee

Residence: Memphis, Tennessee

Harris completed his second year in the NFL by leading the Chiefs and tying for second in the AFC in interceptions with seven . . . Described by Marv Levy as a "dominating football player," Harris teams with Gary Green to give the Chiefs one of the best cornerback combos in the league . . . A United Press International All-AFC second team selection, he is a prime candidate for even higher post-season honors in 1982 . . . He has given the Kansas City secondary a big boost the past two seasons after coming from the Canadian Football League . . . As a rookie in 1980, he intercepted seven passes (second on club, fourth in AFC) for 54 yards in returns and was selected as the winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award as the Chiefs outstanding rookie . . . His seven thefts last year included 109 yards in returns with his longest a 43-yarder versus Oakland . . . Starting all 16 games, he intercepted two passes each against Houston and Miami, plus one in the contests versus Pittsburgh, Oakland and Denver . . . He also had fumble recoveries against Denver and Houston . . . He recorded 53 tackles, including 44 unassisted . . . That just surpassed his first year totals of 50 stops with 41 unassisted . . . He played in the first 15 contests in '80, starting since week three, but missed the finale due to a leg injury . . . He put together a string of six consecutive games with an interception, joining only six other NFL players in doing so . . . The Chiefs drafted Harris in the fourth round of the 1977 draft, but he had signed prior to the draft with the CFL . . . He spent his first three pro seasons with the Toronto Argonauts before becoming a free agent, then came to Kansas City after the Chiefs exercised their right of first refusal on an offer from New Orleans . . . Because the Chiefs had drafted Harris, they had the opportunity to match any contractual offer he received from any other NFL club . . . In his three years in Canada, he intercepted 13 passes, covering 205 yards in returns which included a 115-yard touchdown his rookie year of '77 . . . He started in 48 consecutive games at Toronto and was named to the Eastern Conference all-star team two of the three years . . . Harris lettered four years at Memphis State, ending his career with 213 tackles and 13 interceptions . . . Chiefs scouts rated Green and Harris as the top two cornerbacks available for the '77 draft . . . Harris was a second team All-America selection by Associated Press his senior season and a member of the all-South independent team all four years . . . Attended Hamilton H.S. in Memphis . . . Full name: Eric Wayne Harris . . . Single.

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3a-1981)

College: Southern Mississippi

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: October 17, 1959

Birthplace: Donnasonville, Georgia

Residence: Marianna, Florida

An all-out battle should occur for the Chiefs starting tight end spot and Harvey will be right in the middle of it . . . Although he missed more than half of last season with an injury, Harvey has all the tools to become a solid NFL-caliber tight end . . . The Chiefs first choice in the third round in 1981, he played in the first seven games of the season before severely bruising a thigh versus Denver . . . He was on the injured reserve list for the remainder of the campaign . . . A tremendous athlete with 4.5 speed, Harvey joins Willie Scott, Al Dixon and Ed Beckman to give the Chiefs a talented and deep tight end crew . . . Harvey put together a brilliant four-year career at Southern Mississippi, catching 74 passes for 1,346 yards, an 18.2 average and 14 touchdowns . . . As a senior, he caught 28 passes for 359 yards and was a first-team All-America selection by Newspaper Enterprise Association and an honorable mention All-America choice by AP . . . He also was selected to play in the Blue-Gray Game and the Senior Bowl . . . He established a school record in 1977, his freshman year, when he averaged 31.2 yards per catch . . . Harvey is third on Southern Mississippi's all-time receiving list and his 14 touchdown receptions are second highest in school history . . . Majored in athletic administration/coaching with a minor in physical education . . . Played linebacker and running back at Marianna H.S. in Marianna, Fla., earning all-state, all-county and all-conference honors . . . Full name: Marvin D. Harvey . . . Single.

MATT HERKENHOFF • 60*Tackle Ht: 6-4 Wt: 272*How Acquired: Draft (No. 4-1974)College: MinnesotaNFL Experience: 7Birthdate: April 12, 1951Birthplace: Melrose, MinnesotaResidence: Kansas City, Missouri

Herkenhoff made a strong comeback last year after two knee operations the previous two years . . . Staying healthy the entire season, he started all 16 games at left tackle and provided stability to the greatly improved offensive line . . . Respected as one of the top run blockers in the league, Herkenhoff was a big contributor to the Chiefs ranking first in the AFC in rushing last year . . . A starter since 1976, he appeared in 47 consecutive games until mid-1979 when he sustained ligament damage to his right knee . . . The injury sidelined him for the final 11 games that year . . . He recovered to regain his starting status in 1980 until he injured his left knee, missing the final two games . . . Herkenhoff was a fourth round draft choice by Kansas City in 1974, but did not play with the Chiefs for two years . . . He signed with the New York Stars of the World Football League, shifted to Charlotte with the Stars in mid-74, then came to Kansas City when that season ended . . . He spent all of the 1975 season on injured reserve with ankle problems before taking over as a starter in '76 . . . Entering his seventh season with the Chiefs, Herkenhoff has played in 79 games . . . He was a two-year starter at left tackle at the University of Minnesota, earning honorable mention all-Big Ten honors . . . Also was named the Gophers most valuable offensive player in '73 . . . Majored in sociology . . . Attended Melrose H.S. in Melrose, Minn., where he played tight end . . . Has business ventures in the Minneapolis area, but has made Kansas City his year-round home . . . Full name: Matt Bernard Herkenhoff . . . Married, wife Dawn.

THOMAS HOWARD • 52*Linebacker Ht: 6-2 Wt: 215*How Acquired: Draft (No. 3-1977)College: Texas TechNFL Experience: 6Birthdate: August 18, 1954Birthplace: Lubbock, TexasResidence: Lubbock, Texas

Two different injuries caused Howard to miss nearly half of the 1981 campaign . . . He missed five games in the middle of the season after straining a knee at New England, then missed the final two games due to a separated shoulder suffered at Denver . . . When healthy, Howard played well at his left outside linebacker position, ringing up 38 tackles (31 unassisted) in nine games, seven as a starter . . . He put together four consecutive outstanding outings to begin the season . . . In the opener at Pittsburgh, he scooped up a Terry Bradshaw fumble and rambled 65 yards for a touchdown in the final minutes to give the Chiefs their biggest win in some years . . . He followed that thriller with a nine-tackle performance versus Tampa Bay and eight-tackle efforts against San Diego and Seattle . . . Before being sidelined, Howard had started in 53 consecutive games, which covered every game since the '78 opener . . . Those three years were banner ones for him, as he contributed 106 tackles and an interception in '78, 116 tackles and an interception in '79, and 95 stops and three fumble recoveries in '80 . . . He returned one of those recoveries for a three-yard touchdown versus St. Louis, the first of his pro career . . . Howard began his NFL career behind Jim Lynch, but started three games his rookie year of 1977 . . . Upon Lynch's retirement, Howard took over the right outside linebacker spot, where he stayed until switching to the left side in '80 . . . He now has 402 career tackles and 12½ sacks . . . A third round draft choice out of Texas Tech, Howard began his collegiate career as a defensive end before being switched to linebacker prior to his junior year . . . He was selected to the all-Southwest Conference team as a senior and played a major role in helping Texas Tech to a 10-1 record, co-championship of the SWC and a berth to the Bluebonnet Bowl . . . Majored in business . . . Attended Dunbar H.S. in Lubbock, lettering three years in football and two in track . . . As a senior, he recorded the fastest 120-yard high hurdles time in the nation, 13.7 seconds . . . Full name: James Thomas Howard . . . Married, wife Priscilla, one child.

BILLY JACKSON • 43

Running Back Ht: 5-10 Wt: 215

How Acquired: Draft (No. 7-1981)

College: Alabama

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: September 13, 1959

Birthplace: Phenix City, Alabama

Residence: Phenix City, Alabama

Jackson can claim a good share of the credit for the Chiefs finishing with a winning season last year instead of 8-8 . . . With injuries depleting the Chiefs running back ranks for the season finale, he was THE back in the one-man backfield formation and he went on to roll up 102 yards on 25 carries to lead Kansas City past Minnesota . . . His heroics that game, his first start as a pro, helped the Chiefs over the .500 barrier for the first time since 1973 and led Kansas City coaches to expect big things from Jackson in '82 . . . He finished the '81 season with 398 yards rushing, third best on the squad, and will battle James Hadnot for the starting fullback spot this season . . . He became the Chiefs most effective runner near the goal line, leading the club with 11 touchdowns, 10 of which came on the ground . . . When the Chiefs had the ball inside the five yard line, Jackson was the likely choice to get the call . . . He ranked fourth in the AFC in scoring among non-kickers . . . After seeing limited action during the first seven games of the season, he came into his own in game eight at Oakland . . . That's where he scored three touchdowns, including a 29-yarder while breaking four tackles along the way to ignite the Chiefs thrilling come-from-behind victory over the Raiders . . . Even more impressive, he was playing at halfback, a position he had not even practiced before, replacing the injured Joe Delaney . . . He also had a big day versus Seattle, romping for 70 yards on 17 carries and scoring two touchdowns . . . He played in all 16 games, despite nagging hip and collarbone injuries . . . Known as a good blocking back, Jackson's versatility as a runner was evident as the season progressed . . . He also caught six passes during the campaign for 31 yards . . . He returned three kickoffs early in the season for 60 yards . . . A seventh-round draft choice, Jackson was a three-year letter-winner at Alabama . . . His scouting report might have been hurt a little by Bear Bryant's system of using a lot of running backs . . . He still gained 606 yards on 111 carries his senior season, earning all-Southwest Conference second-team honors and was named honorable mention All-America by the Associated Press . . . He was a member of two national championship teams with the Crimson Tide in 1978-79 . . . Played in the Senior Bowl . . . Majored in social work . . . Attended Central H.S. in Phenix City . . . Enjoys fishing and hunting . . . Full name: Billy Thurman Jackson . . . Single.

Jackson steamrolled through the first half of last season playing the best ball of his career . . . He was the Chiefs second-leading tackler with 53 when he sprained his right ankle in the ninth game at San Diego . . . He missed the next two games and never really regained full form . . . The first eight games, however, were memorable ones . . . In the Chiefs thrilling season-opening victory over Pittsburgh, Jackson recovered a remarkable three fumbles . . . The first one set up a Kansas City field goal, the second one set up a touchdown and the third one thwarted a fourth-quarter Steeler drive deep in the Chiefs territory . . . He also had seven tackles that day . . . The next week versus Tampa Bay, he made a season-high nine stops . . . Week eight at Oakland, he blind-sided Raider quarterback Marc Wilson and stripped him of the ball in the final seconds as teammate Gary Spani picked it up and ran for a 91-yard touchdown run to save the Chiefs come-from-behind triumph . . . After the injury, Jackson registered only nine tackles, finishing the season with 62 . . . He started 11 games at right outside linebacker—the first nine and the last two . . . The Chiefs claimed Jackson on waivers from Denver in 1978 and he spent most of his three years in Kansas City as a kicking teams player . . . He made four starts at inside linebacker in 1979, replacing the injured Frank Manumaleuga . . . He had a combined total of 68 tackles his first three seasons . . . Twice, he has played out his option before resigning with the Chiefs . . . Following the 1980 season, he signed with Edmonton of the CFL, but was waived by the Eskimos during Canadian training camp . . . Because he was let go prior to July 15, he was eligible to return to the NFL in '81 and requested another try in Kansas City . . . He originally was a ninth round draft choice by Denver in 1977, but spent all of that year on injured reserve . . . He was a late cut by the Broncos in '78 before joining the Chiefs . . . Earned all-Pacific Eight honors in 1975 at Washington and was an AP honorable mention All-America selection . . . Attended Berkeley H.S. in Berkeley, Calif. . . . Full name: Charles Jackson . . . Married, wife Claudia.

BILL KENNEY • 9*Quarterback Ht: 6-4 Wt: 211*How Acquired: Free Agent (1979)College: Northern ColoradoNFL Experience: 4Birthdate: January 20, 1955Birthplace: San Francisco, CaliforniaResidence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Although he started the first 13 games last year, Kenney must again battle Steve Fuller for the Chiefs No. 1 quarterback position . . . Kenney enjoyed his best season as a pro, completing 147 of 274 passes (.536) for 1,983 yards and nine touchdowns, until Fuller took over the final three games . . . The two players have reversed roles the past two years, as Fuller was the starting signal-caller for the first 13 games in 1980 before Kenney came in to start the final three contests . . . They were battling for the top spot during preseason last August when Fuller went down with a knee injury . . . Kenney looked unstoppable at times during the first seven games of the '81 campaign . . . He accumulated a log of 94 completions on 172 attempts for 1,378 yards and six touchdowns in those seven games . . . He began the season with a strong performance in the Chiefs big win over Pittsburgh, completing 14 of 26 passes for 242 yards and two TD's, a 48-yarder to Henry Marshall and a 53-yard strike to Carlos Carson . . . After a mediocre 99-yard outing the next week versus Tampa Bay, Kenney ran up some eye-popping statistics week three against San Diego . . . He connected on 22 of 41 attempts for 303 yards, all three figures his highest of the season . . . Although he tossed five interceptions in that game, the 41 attempts were the third-highest total in Chiefs history and it was the second game he had thrown for over 300 yards in his career . . . He also passed for over 200 yards in wins over Seattle (16-25-239) and Oakland (15-23-287) . . . He teamed with Marshall against Denver for the Chiefs longest pass play of the season, a 64-yard touchdown strike . . . Following that game with the Broncos, Kenney started the next six games, but was replaced in the second half in three of them by Fuller, who started the final three contests . . . The Chiefs have compiled a 10-6 record with Kenney as the starting quarterback . . . After not playing a down during his rookie year of '79, Kenney's inaugural regular-season play came in the final three games of '80 after Fuller injured his knee . . . Leading the Chiefs to victory in two of the three, Kenney passed for 542 yards, including 142 in his first game and a whopping 316 in the season finale . . . That marked the first time since 1976 (Mike Livingston) that a Chiefs quarterback had passed for over 300 yards . . . A 12th round draft choice by Miami in 1978, Kenney was the next to last player taken in that draft . . . Miami traded him to Washington during the preseason, but the Redskins released him and he sat out the '78 season . . . He signed with the Chiefs in '79 and beat out '78 draftee Pete Woods for the third quarterback spot, behind Fuller and Livingston . . . Kenney began his collegiate career at Arizona State under Frank Kush, now head coach of the Baltimore Colts, but transferred to Saddleback (Calif.) Junior College and then on to Northern Colorado . . . At UNC, he played tight end as a junior, catching 17 passes, then subbed at quarterback in two games, completing 18 of 40 passes . . . He then played QB fulltime as a senior, completing 97 of 226 for 1,264 yards and seven touchdowns . . . His father, Charles, was a guard for the San Francisco 49ers in 1947 . . . Attended San Clemente H.S. in San Clemente, Calif. . . . Majored in business administration . . . Worked as a stock broker during the off-season for a firm in Greeley, Colorado . . . Full name: William Patrick Kenney . . . Married, wife Sandy, one child.

DAVE KLUG • 55

Linebacker Ht: 6-4 Wt: 230

How Acquired: Draft (No. 4-1980)

College: Concordia (Minn.)

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: May 17, 1958

Birthplace: Litchfield, Minnesota

Residence: Litchfield, Minnesota

In his first season on the Chiefs active roster, Klug established himself as an outstanding special teams performer and a linebacker with much potential . . . He earned the most points of any player on the Chiefs kicking teams, which ranked first in the entire NFL . . . In Klug's stints at outside linebacker, Marv Levy says he "showed real promise" . . . Playing in all 16 games, Klug was credited with three tackles at linebacker plus a bundle more on the kicking teams . . . Although he was a 1980 draft choice, Klug injured his ankle while working out on a Cybex machine prior to the draft . . . After the ankle didn't respond to treatment, surgery was performed and he missed the entire season . . . He is a legitimate contender for a starting outside linebacker spot in 1982 . . . Klug was a three-year starter as a standup defensive end at Concordia and was a two-time first team selection by the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference . . . As a junior, his team won the NCAA Division III national championship . . . He also was a forward on Concordia's basketball team and competed on the track squad as a high hurdler . . . Majored in health and physical education . . . Attended Litchfield H.S. in Litchfield, Minn. . . Full name: David John Klug . . . Single.

KEN KREMER • 91

Nose Tackle Ht: 6-4 Wt: 252

How Acquired: Draft (No. 7-1979)

College: Ball State

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: July 16, 1957

Birthplace: Hammond, Indiana

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

One of the Chiefs best pass rushers, Kremer led the club in quarterback sacks last year with eight for 57½ yards in losses . . . Last season marked by far the best of his three in the NFL, finishing with 61 tackles . . . His big improvement solidified the middle of the Chiefs defense and he will team again in 1982 with Art Still and Mike Bell to give Kansas City an extremely strong defensive line . . . Kremer started eight games at nose tackle, splitting time with Don Parrish . . . It was his first season of playing strictly one position, as he alternated between nose tackle and defensive end his first two years . . . His best day as a pro came versus Chicago when he put together a nine-tackle performance . . . The following week against Houston, he recorded seven stops, including two sacks for 17 yards in losses . . . He recovered fumbles in the Chiefs first and last games of the season . . . His recovery against Pittsburgh led to a Kansas City field goal to aid the Chiefs to victory . . . Versus Minnesota, he claimed the loose ball in the final period to help preserve the season-ending win . . . In 1980, Kremer got off to a slow start after injuring his ankle and knee in the final preseason game, but ended the campaign with 20 tackles in 14 games . . . He had one fumble recovery and four sacks for 44 yards in losses in '80 . . . As a rookie in '79 he registered 27 tackles, including four sacks for 30 yards in losses . . . Kremer came to the Chiefs as a seventh round draft choice in 1979 after four years as a starter at Ball State . . . He was named to the Mid-America Conference first team as both a junior and senior and was the conference player of the year his final season . . . As a senior in '78, he was the school's most valuable player on a team that won the MAC title with a 10-1 record . . . Accumulated 98 tackles that year and was named his conference's player of the week on two occasions . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Thornton Frantional H.S. in Lansing, Illinois . . . Full name: James Kendall Kremer . . . Married, wife Patti, one child.

WILL LEWIS • 31

How Acquired: Free Agent (1981)

College: Millersville State

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: January 16, 1958

Birthplace: Quakertown, Pennsylvania

Residence: Quakertown, Pennsylvania

Lewis was signed by the Chiefs prior to the season finale at Minnesota last December after being released by Seattle . . . He will battle for a backup spot at cornerback in '82 . . . He compiled an impressive rookie season with the Seahawks in 1980 as a punt and kickoff returner . . . His 23.4 average on 25 kickoff returns was the second best in the AFC that year and fifth best in the NFL . . . He set club records with a 75-yard punt return and a 54-yard kickoff runback . . . Also was a reserve defensive back with the Seahawks . . . Was a Division III All-America at Millersville State College in Pennsylvania . . . Lettered four years in football and two years in track . . . Attended Pennridge H.S. in Perkasié, Pa. . . Future plans include attending the Pennsylvania State Police Academy . . . Full name: Will L. DAVE LINDSTROM ● 71
Defensive End Ht: 6-6 Wt: 255

How Acquired: Waivers (San Diego-1978)
College: Boston University
NFL Experience: 5
Birthdate: November 16, 1954
Birthplace: Cambridge, Massachusetts
Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

One of the best backup defensive ends in the league, Lindstrom has been a savior for the Chiefs the past two seasons . . . Last year, he stepped in as a starter for five games when Art Still went down and did a superb job . . . Ditto for the previous season when he started 14 games in place of the injured Mike Bell . . . Playing in all 16 games last year, Lindstrom registered 37 tackles (20 unassisted) with his best game an eight-tackle effort at Oakland . . . He also had six tackles and a sack for an eight-yard loss at New England . . . Marv Levy says Lindstrom's contribution helped the Chiefs "fantastically" . . . In 1980, he finished with 30 tackles, including four sacks for 28 yards in losses . . . With Levy's rotation system at defensive end in '78 and '79, Lindstrom saw considerable action although he wasn't a starter . . . He appeared in 13 games in '79, missing the final three games with a strained knee . . . He was in on 16 tackles that year . . . In his rookie season of '78, he played mainly on kicking teams but came in frequently on pass rushing situations and finished the year with 20 tackles . . . Now has 103 career stops, including six sacks . . . Lindstrom was San Diego's sixth round draft selection in 1977, but spent the entire season on injured reserve . . . He came to Kansas City in the final, no-recall waiver late in the '78 preseason . . . Spent his collegiate career at Boston University, where he was the team's most valuable player his senior year . . . Works in the off-season selling real estate for a local firm . . . Attended Weymouth South H.S. in Weymouth, Mass. . . . Full name: David Alan Lindstrom . . . Married, wife Mary.

NICK LOWERY ● 8
Kicker Ht: 6-4 Wt: 189

How Acquired: Free Agent (1980)
College: Dartmouth
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: May 27, 1956
Birthplace: Munich, Germany
Residence: McLean, Virginia

Lowery's performance last season was nothing short of sensational, proving his 1980 cinderella campaign was not a fluke . . . He was rewarded by being selected as the starting kicker for the AFC in the Pro Bowl . . . His 115 points tied him for first in the AFC in scoring and was the fourth-highest total in Chiefs history . . . He connected on 26 field goals, which was the most in the AFC and tied him for third on the Chiefs all-time list . . . He also placed third in the AFC in field goal accuracy (.722) on 26 of 36 attempts . . . In only two seasons, Lowery has booted 46 field goals, which is second to Jan Stenerud in Chiefs history . . . He began the 1981 season in grand style, kicking seven field goals in the first two games . . . He was three of four at Pittsburgh and made all four versus Tampa Bay . . . His longest field goal of the year was a 52-yarder against Oakland . . . During a four game stretch, Lowery connected on seven consecutive field goal attempts . . . He was near perfect inside the 50-yard line, hitting 25 of 29 . . . He also converted 37 of 38 PAT's and had hit his first 76 as a pro before missing one against Seattle . . . In addition to being named to the Pro Bowl, which he won for the AFC with a 23-yard field goal with three seconds remaining, Lowery was selected to the All-NFL team by Newspaper Enterprise Assn., and the UPI All-AFC first team . . . Lowery beat out longtime Kansas City legend Jan Stenerud in 1980 and rebutted the skeptics quickly with his outstanding kicking . . . In the second game of the season (Seattle), he booted a 57-yard field goal, which tied for the third longest in NFL history and broke the Chiefs record of 55 yards set by Stenerud . . . He made good on 20 of 26 field goal attempts that year, including 16 of 19 inside midfield . . . He was a perfect 37 of 37 on PAT's and finished the season with 97 points . . . Before winning a spot with the Chiefs, Lowery had tried unsuccessfully with eight other NFL teams . . . After not being drafted out of Dartmouth, he tried with the New York Jets in 1978 but was cut during training camp . . . He then signed with New England in the middle of that season and appeared in two games with the Patriots, connecting on all seven PAT's and missing on his only field goal attempt before being released . . . In 1979, he failed in tryouts with Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, New Orleans, Tampa Bay and San Diego . . . Since signing with the Chiefs, Lowery has made .742 of his field goal attempts (46-62), including an impressive 41-49 inside midfield, and connected on 74 of 75 PAT's . . . Spent this past off-season in Washington, D.C. working as a special assistant to Missouri Senator Tom Eagleton . . . Spent part of his childhood growing up in Europe, where he played both rugby and soccer . . . His father worked for the State Department at the American Embassy in London . . . Majored in government . . . Full name: Dominic Gerald Lowery . . . Single.

DINO MANGIERO • 74

Nose Tackle Ht: 6-2 Wt: 264

How Acquired: Free Agent (1980)

College: Rutgers

NFL Experience: 3

Birthdate: December 19, 1958

Birthplace: New York, New York

Residence: Staten Island, New York

Mangiero provided the Chiefs with solid backup at nose tackle during the final nine games last year, after missing the first seven contests due to a knee injury suffered in training camp . . . The limited playing time caused him to finish the season with only six tackles, far below his rookie-season total of 50 . . . His best game came on Thanksgiving Day, when he made three unassisted tackles at Detroit including two quarterback sacks . . . The enthusiastic Mangiero signed with the Chiefs as a free agent in 1980 after being bypassed in the draft . . . He was with the club until the cuto-down to 50 players, but instead of returning home he stayed in Kansas City, working out on his own in hopes of being resigned . . . His extra effort paid off when Ken Kremer was injured during the final preseason game and Mangiero was asked to re-join the club in time for the season opener . . . He went on to play in all 16 games, including a start at Seattle when Don Parrish was ailing, and finished the year with 50 tackles, 35 of which were unassisted . . . He had a memorable day at Pittsburgh when he intercepted a Terry Bradshaw pass after deflecting it at the line of scrimmage and also came up with a fumble recovery . . . He was a standout defensive tackle at Rutgers, where his line coach was current Chiefs linebacker tutor Ted Cottrell . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Curtis H.S. in Staten Island, N.Y. . . . Full name: Dino M. Mangiero . . . Married, wife Jamie.

FRANK MANUMALEUGA • 54*Linebacker Ht: 6-2 Wt: 245*How Acquired: Draft (No. 4-1979)College: San Jose StateNFL Experience: 4Birthdate: May 9, 1956Birthplace: Laie, SamoaResidence: Carson, California

Manumaleuga was off to a blazing start last year until a pinched nerve in his neck forced him to the injured reserve list, missing the final 12 games . . . Starting the first four contests at left inside linebacker, "Manu" was the Chiefs second-leading tackler and had made some big plays before being sidelined . . . In the season opener at Pittsburgh, he stripped Terry Bradshaw of the ball that led to Thomas Howards' 65-yard return in the final minutes to help the Chiefs to the thrilling victory . . . He had nine tackles that game, as he did the second week versus Tampa Bay . . . Against San Diego, he was in on 10 stops and made two interceptions, the second one killing a Charger drive in the last minute of the first half . . . He added three tackles at Seattle to bring his season total to 31 . . . In 1980, Manumaleuga was third among Chiefs tacklers with 109, 80 of which were unassisted . . . He started the first 13 games that year, with the biggest coming in the Chiefs come-from-behind victory over Seattle when he intercepted two passes, returning one for the only touchdown of his pro career . . . As a rookie in '79, he played in 15 games, missing one and parts of some others due to a strained knee . . . He finished his inaugural season with 89 tackles, fourth best on the Chiefs squad . . . Manumaleuga began his collegiate career at UCLA, playing football and basketball as a freshman . . . A neck injury followed and some physicians prescribed he give up football, though others recommended rest and continued therapy . . . The latter paid off, as he resumed his career, first at DeAnza (Calif.) and then at San Jose State, where he played his junior and senior years . . . He was named to the all-Pacific Coast Athletic Association team his final two seasons and was a third-team All-America choice by Associated Press as a senior . . . He was also the PCAA defensive player of the year in '78 . . . Played some at fullback while at DeAnza . . . HENRY MARSHALL • 89*Wide Receiver Ht: 6-2 Wt: 220*How Acquired: Draft (No. 3d-1976)College: MissouriNFL Experience: 7Birthdate: August 9, 1954Birthplace: Broxton, GeorgiaResidence: Kansas City, Missouri

Although he has yet to garner All-Pro honors, Marshall has established himself the past two years as one of the premier wide receivers in the NFL . . . He recorded his best pro season ever in 1980 with 47 receptions for 799 yards and he was on pace to break both those marks last year until a sprained knee sidelined him for the final four games . . . In the 12 games prior to the injury, he grabbed 38 passes for 620 yards for a 16.3 average and four touchdowns . . . Marshall's importance to the Chiefs aerial attack became evident in the final four games as the passing game tailed off considerably . . . It was his first major injury in his six-year pro career . . . His biggest day last year was in Arrowhead versus Oakland when he caught six passes for 110 yards and a touchdown . . . When the Chiefs traveled to Oakland two weeks later he lit up again, collecting five receptions for 85 yards . . . In the Chiefs season-opening victory over Pittsburgh, he caught four passes for 89 yards, including a 48-yard touchdown . . . He was on the receiving end of the team's longest pass play of the year, a 64-yard touchdown toss from Bill Kenney versus Denver . . . The subject of a growing number of double-teaming efforts the past two seasons, Marshall's talents have become more noticed as the Chiefs throw to him more and more . . . He has become especially adept at running patterns across the middle and catching the ball in traffic . . . He has deceptive speed and has proven himself a deep threat at times . . . Marshall's 1980 campaign was a sensational one and he capped it with his best day ever by snatching nine passes for 176 yards and scoring the longest TD of his career, 75 yards . . . The 176-yard total was a tie for the top spot in the NFL that season for most yards gained in one game . . . In the Chiefs record book, that single-game yardage is second all-time to the 213 yards by Curtis McClinton in 1965 . . . He scored six touchdowns in 1980, making him the second-leading scorer on the club with 36 points . . . His 17.0 average per catch led the Chiefs for the second consecutive season and ranked in the top 10 in the AFC among receivers . . . During the first four years of his career, Marshall's statistics were lower as the Chiefs were predominantly a run-oriented team . . . He averaged around 25 receptions and 413 yards per season with a 16.9 average per catch those four years . . . He also has been used from time to time on end-around plays throughout his career . . . Last year he carried the ball three times for 69 yards, including a 34-yarder versus Denver and a 31-yarder against Chicago . . . The Marshall end-around has been successful most of the time, as he has averaged 11.0 yards in his 21 career attempts and scored two touchdowns . . . He was a third-round draft choice by the Chiefs in 1976 on a pick obtained from Houston in a deal involving Curley Culp . . . He enjoyed a superb senior season at Missouri, catching 44 passes for 945 yards and nine TDs . . . His first three years were not as productive as the Tigers ran the wishbone formation; he caught only five passes his junior season . . . But the offense opened up his final year, highlighted by a Big Eight record 207-yard receiving performance versus Oklahoma State . . . A tremendous athlete, Marshall played varsity baseball and basketball as a freshman at Hillcrest H.S. in Dalzell, South Carolina and both teams won state championships . . . His football career did not begin until his junior season in high school . . . He became an immediate blue-chipper in football that year, plus he hit .450 in baseball, long-jumped 24-10½ and ran a 46.0 quarter on a relay team . . . He was injured for most of his senior year . . . Organizes and plays on the Chiefs basketball team during the offseason . . . Majored in economics . . . Full name: Henry H. Marshall . . . Single.

TED McKNIGHT • 22
Running Back Ht: 6-1 Wt: 212

How Acquired: Waivers (Oakland-1977)
College: Minnesota-Duluth
NFL Experience: 6
Birthdate: February 26, 1954
Birthplace: Duluth, Minnesota
Residence: Lenexa, Kansas

The Chiefs most durable and versatile running back during the first four years of his pro career, McKnight spent most of last season on injured reserve after undergoing knee surgery . . . In the fifth game of the season at New England, he went down while making a cut towards the sidelines after picking up 26 yards on the second play from scrimmage . . . The initial diagnosis was a severely sprained ankle, but later doctors discovered ligament damage to his right knee . . . He missed the final 11 games of the year . . . At the time of his injury, McKnight led the Chiefs in touchdowns with five, and had gained 195 yards on 54 carries . . . He was Kansas City's starting halfback in the first five games, running his consecutive start string to 26 . . . His best of the five was the opener at Pittsburgh, when he led the Chiefs in rushing with 59 yards on 17 carries in the big win over the Steelers . . . He also caught eight passes for 71 yards in the first four games, including a five-catch, 61-yard effort at Seattle . . . With a clean bill of health in '82, he will share time at halfback with Joe Delaney, making that position possibly the strongest on the club . . . McKnight, who has 2,344 career rushing yards, is now only 217 yards shy of surpassing Wendell Hayes into the fifth spot on Kansas City's all-time career rushing charts . . . Prior to last year, he was the Chiefs leading rusher for two consecutive seasons . . . In 1980, he carried the ball 206 times, fifth most in club history, and picked up 693 yards . . . His biggest day was again in the opening game of the season versus Oakland, when he gained 77 yards on 14 carries . . . He also caught 38 passes that year for 320 yards . . . He started all 16 contests, mostly at fullback so he and Tony Reed could be in the same backfield . . . In 1979, McKnight led the Chiefs in both rushing and receiving, totaling 755 yards on 153 attempts on the ground and catching 38 passes for 226 yards . . . He set a Chiefs record in '79 when he exploded for an 84-yard touchdown at Seattle, breaking the old mark of 80 shared by Abner Haynes and Warren McVea . . . That run propelled McKnight to the best day of his career, 147 yards on 12 carries . . . He has two 100-yard performances in his career . . . In 1978, he was the wingback, basically the non-running back, in the Wing-T formation, but still managed to gain 627 yards on 104 carries to lead the NFL with an average of 6.0 yards per carry . . . He has maintained an impressive career average of 4.4 yards per carry . . . He also was utilized as a kickoff return man early in his career . . . He returned 12 kickoffs for 305 yards in 1977, including a 70-yarder which is the second longest in Chiefs history next to Noland Smith's 106-yard return in 1967 . . . McKnight was a second-round draft choice in 1977 by the Oakland Raiders . . . He was the final player cut by the Raiders in training camp that year, but the Chiefs claimed him through waivers just prior to the start of the season . . . In four years at Minnesota-Duluth, he rushed for 2,963 yards to become the school's all-time rushing leader . . . He was the NCAA Division II rushing champion in 1976 with 1,482 yards on 220 carries and 22 touchdowns . . . Attended Duluth Central H.S. in Duluth, Minnesota . . . Would eventually like to begin a career in the radio or television industry . . . Full name: Theodore R. McKnight . . . Married, wife Dawn, one child.

How Acquired: Free Agent (1981)

College: Utah State

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: October 10, 1959

Birthplace: Deland, Florida

Residence: Deland, Florida

Murphy became the Chiefs primary kickoff return man last year after being signed prior to the sixth game of the season against Oakland . . . He quickly proved himself to be a threat and finished the season sixth in the AFC with a 22.9 average on 20 returns . . . His biggest day came on Thanksgiving, when he returned four kickoffs for 97 yards at Detroit . . . His longest return of the season was a 46-yarder versus Chicago . . . He also had a 42-yard effort on his last return of the year at Minnesota . . . Murphy was used in a backup role as a wide receiver, catching two passes for 36 yards during the '81 campaign . . . He had a 22-yard reception at Detroit and a 14-yarder versus Denver . . . He was a 10th round draft choice last year of the Minnesota Vikings, who kept him until the cutdown to 50 players in late August . . . He signed as a free agent with the Atlanta Falcons for two weeks, was released again, then signed with the Chiefs on October 8, replacing injured linebacker Frank Manumaleuga on the active roster . . . Murphy was a college teammate of Chiefs quarterback Bob Gagliano at Utah State . . . He was second in the nation in pass receiving as a senior, catching 66 passes for 996 yards and 10 touchdowns . . . As a junior, he had 63 receptions for 1,067 yards and six TD's . . . He was named all-Pacific Coast Athletic Association for two years and was honorable mention Associated Press All-America his senior season . . . Attended Deland H.S. in Deland, Florida . . . Full name: James Jessie Murphy . . . Single.

JOHN OLENCHALK • 63*Center/Linebacker Ht: 6-0 Wt: 225*How Acquired: Free Agent (1981)College: StanfordNFL Experience: 2Birthdate: November 27, 1955Birthplace: Stockton, CaliforniaResidence: Antioch, California

Olenchalk was signed for the final game at Minnesota last season as the deep snapper following an injury to Todd Thomas . . . He will be working for a spot on the roster as an inside linebacker in '82 . . . He was in the Chiefs training camp a year ago, but was let go prior to the opening of the regular season . . . Olenchalk was with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League in 1978, but an injury kept him out of action the following year . . . He then played with a semi-pro club in California in 1980 before coming to Kansas City last year . . . Spent his four-year collegiate career at Stanford, where he was a linebacker . . . Majored in biology . . . Interests include waterskiing and restoring antique and classic automobiles . . . Full name: John Hunt Olenchalk . . . Single.

DON PARRISH • 61*Nose Tackle Ht: 6-2 Wt: 255*How Acquired: Free Agent (1978)College: PittsburghNFL Experience: 5Birthdate: April 6, 1955Birthplace: Tallahassee, FloridaResidence: Tallahassee, Florida

An important cog in the middle of the Chiefs defense the past four years, Parrish is expected to share time with Ken Kremer at nose tackle again in '82 . . . He turned in another steady performance last year, recording 53 tackles (34 unassisted) while starting eight games . . . He also had two quarterback sacks, bringing his career total to 12½ . . . He recovered three fumbles which tied him with Charles Jackson for high honors on the club in that category . . . His best outings were a seven-tackle performance which included a fumble recovery at Detroit and six-tackle efforts versus Chicago and Seattle . . . His other fumble recoveries came against San Diego and Minnesota . . . Parrish came to the Chiefs just prior to the second regular season game of the 1978 season as a free agent . . . He had been a late cut by the Atlanta Falcons and was on his way to the Canadian Football League when the Chiefs signed him . . . He gradually moved into a starting spot at nose tackle, finished with 91 tackles, and was named the winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award as the Chiefs outstanding rookie that year . . . In 1979, he started all 16 games and accumulated 74 tackles, including five sacks . . . He had similar totals during another strong campaign in 1980, finishing with 75 stops . . . A 12th round draft choice of the Atlanta Falcons in 1977, Parrish spent all of that season on injured reserve nursing a hand injury . . . He played on Pitt's 1976 national championship team and was a teammate of Dallas running back and former Heisman winner Tony Dorsett . . . Attended Amos Godby H.S. in Tallahassee, where he participated in football and track . . . Full name: Donald Parrish . . . Married, wife Lynette.

WHITNEY PAUL • 53*Linebacker Ht: 6-3 Wt: 220*How Acquired: Draft (No. 10-1976)College: ColoradoNFL Experience: 7Birthdate: October 8, 1955Birthplace: Galveston, TexasResidence: Kansas City, Missouri

After spending his first two seasons as a defensive end, Paul is in his fifth year as an outside linebacker and has been productive at both positions . . . Breaking into the starting lineup midway through his rookie campaign, he has played in 87 of the 92 games the past six years and started 71 of them . . . Last year, Paul shared time at left outside linebacker with Thomas Howard, but started nine of the last 11 contests . . . He finished the season with 54 tackles and at times showed flashes of the form he employed in 1977-79 when he was a stalwart of the Chiefs defense . . . He put it all together versus Denver, making 12 tackles (nine solo) which included two sacks for 15 yards in losses and he picked up a Craig Morton fumble and returned it 47 yards for the only touchdown in his NFL career . . . He also came up with two interceptions last season, one in each of the meetings with Oakland, bringing his career total to eight . . . 49 of his 54 tackles last year came during his nine starts . . . He played in all 16 games . . . His first start came versus Oakland after Howard had injured his knee at New England . . . Paul was the Chiefs 10th round draft pick in 1976 and was the last player kept on the squad that year . . . He came on strong and earned a starting spot at defensive end by game six . . . In 1977, he started 13 of the 14 games and was credited with 83 tackles . . . In 1978, he was switched to outside linebacker when Marv Levy instituted the 3-4 defense . . . At the time, Paul was considered the Chiefs best down lineman, but Chiefs coaches thought his exceptional quickness would be a great asset at linebacker . . . His superb athletic ability helped him make a rapid adjustment to the new position . . . He started all 16 contests that year and finished with 88 tackles . . . In 1979, he started 15 games, missing the finale due to an injury, and contributed 84 tackles along with a career-high eight sacks . . . He also led the club in fumble recoveries with three . . . He dropped off a bit in 1980 when injuries forced him to miss four games and he ended the campaign with 55 tackles . . . A two-year starter at Colorado, Paul began his college career as a tight end but moved to defensive end his last two seasons . . . Was one of 10 CU players drafted in '76 . . . Also high jumped at CU with a lifetime best of 6-10 . . . Majored in recreation . . . Attended Ball H.S. in Galveston, Texas, where he participated in football and track . . . Full name: Whitney Paul . . . Single.

How Acquired: Draft (No. 11-1979)

College: Clemson

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: June 4, 1956

Birthplace: Valdosta, Georgia

Residence: Valdosta, Georgia

Rome finished the 1981 campaign playing the best ball of his pro career, starting the final four games in place of the injured Henry Marshall . . . In those four contests, he caught more passes (nine for 99 yards) than the previous 12 games (eight for 104 yards) . . . In his first start versus Detroit, he grabbed three passes for 32 yards, had two receptions for 40 yards the next week at Denver, snatched three for 12 yards against Miami and ended the season by scoring the only touchdown of the game (and the first of his pro career) as the Chiefs upended Minnesota . . . His longest reception of the year came earlier in the season at Oakland, when he latched onto a 23-yarder . . . In an exhibition game last summer, he enjoyed a four-catch, 95-yard performance which included a touchdown versus Chicago . . . Against the Bears in the regular season, Rome blocked a John Roveta field goal attempt . . . He has seen considerable action on the Chiefs kicking teams

... In 1980, he caught three passes for 58 yards before a freak injury put him out of action for the final six games ... He collided with teammate Charlie Getty in pregame warmups while running a pattern and Rome suffered a strained knee ... His rookie year, he broke a foot in the Chiefs minicamp prior to the '79 season and wasn't activated until October, playing in nine games ... Rome was a college teammate of Chiefs quarterback Steve Fuller at Clemson, but he only played football one year (1975 as a sophomore) ... He played basketball the remainder of his college career and led Clemson in scoring his senior season ... He was drafted by the NBA Cleveland Cavaliers and was the Cavs last cut in the '78 training camp ... He played all of 1978-79 with Reno of the Western Basketball Association before being drafted by the Chiefs ... Attended Valdosta H.S. in Valdosta, Ga. ... Set a national high school record with 4,477 yards pass receiving in four prep seasons ... Still plays a lot of basketball during the offseason ... Full name: Stanford B. Rome ... Single.

JACK RUDNAY • 58

Center Ht: 6-2 Wt: 240

How Acquired: Draft (No. 4-1969)

College: Northwestern

NFL Experience: 13

Birthdate: November 20, 1947

Birthplace: Cleveland, Ohio

Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

The Chiefs elder statesman, Rudnay embarks upon his 13th season and continues to be one of the finest centers in the league ... Adding yet another outstanding campaign to his saga, the six-year team captain is the anchor of the offensive line and provides invaluable leadership to the entire squad ... He started all 16 games last year and received honorable mention all-AFC honors from UPI ... He kept up the same solid play which has earned him four trips to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl Game (1973-76) ... Consistent and durable, Rudnay has played in 172 Chiefs games, and when the 1982 season is over, only three players in the club's history will have played more years (Jerrel Wilson, 15, Len Dawson and Ed Budde, 14) ... He will join Jim Tyrer,

Buck Buchanan, Emmitt Thomas and Jan Stenerud as players who were active 13 years for the Chiefs . . . A true ironman, Rudnay once played in 144 consecutive contests, beginning with the 1970 season and lasting through the entire decade before he missed the first four games of 1980 . . . That ranks third in Kansas City history for consecutive games played, behind Jan Stenerud (186) and Jim Tyrer (180) . . . He played in many of those games with various injuries, including one with a fractured hand . . . The four games he missed at the beginning of the '80 season were due to a hamstring he tore in training camp . . . The Chiefs were 0-4 while he was on injured reserve and were 8-4 after he came back . . . A fourth round draft choice in 1969, Rudnay missed the Chiefs Super Bowl season as a result of a back injury suffered in the College All-Star Game following his senior year . . . He replaced E. J. Holub as the starting center midway through the 1970 season and won the Mack Lee Hill Award that year . . . He played in the 1971 playoff game against the Miami Dolphins, which was the longest game in NFL history, and is the only current Chiefs player who has playoff experience . . . At Northwestern, Rudnay played both center and defensive tackle . . . He was a three-year starter at center and was all-Big Ten as a senior . . . He is extremely active in charitable affairs which, to his liking, receive little or no fanfare . . . For a number of years now, he has purchased tickets for home games which he distributes to different groups of underprivileged or disadvantaged youngsters . . . He also is involved heavily in the Special Olympics . . . In 1980, he received the prestigious Bruce Rice Humanitarian Award, presented by Milgram Foods . . . Rudnay is an avid hunter and fisherman, and he owns several antique automobiles . . . Became vice-president of the newly formed Royal American Foods Company in Kansas City during this past off-season . . . Attended Kenston H.S. in Chagrin Falls, Ohio . . . Majored in history . . . Full name: John Carl Rudnay . . . Married, wife Polly, two children.

WILLIE SCOTT 81

Tight End Ht: 6-4 Wt: 245

How Acquired:Draft (No. 1-1981)

College: South Carolina

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: February 13, 1959

Birthplace: Newberry, South Carolina

Residence: Newberry, South Carolina

Scott's exceptional blocking and pass receiving abilities are expected to be a greater part of the Chiefs offensive attack in 1982 . . . The Chiefs No. 1 draft choice last year, Scott came to Kansas City in the limelight with immense pressure on him to step in and produce immediately . . . But a slow start, mainly due to a fractured finger which knocked him out of the entire preseason, deprived him of the invaluable early-season experience . . . He went on to have a mediocre rookie campaign, totaling five receptions for 72 yards and one touchdown . . . He started three games and saw action in all 16 . . . His biggest day came in his first start, when he caught three passes for 44 yards at New England . . . His other starts were against Chicago and Minnesota . . . In addition to his receptions against the Patriots, Scott had one catch in the San Diego game for 26 yards (his longest of the year) and one versus Seattle for a two-yard touchdown . . . Chiefs coaches saw tremendous potential in Scott as he became acclimated to the pro game and improved as the season progressed . . . The first tight end selected in last year's draft and the 14th pick overall, Scott was known for his blocking as well as his pass receiving at South Carolina . . . He led the Gamecocks in receptions his senior season with 27 for 360 yards and he was the team's second-leading receiver his junior and sophomore years . . . He also was a key blocker in South Carolina's system which enabled teammate George Rogers, now one of the top rushers in the NFL at New Orleans, to win the Heisman Trophy in 1980 . . . Capped his senior season with the Gamecocks with a seven-catch, 109-yard effort in the Gator Bowl versus Pittsburgh . . . Ranks 10th on the school's all-time career reception charts . . . Was an honorable mention All-America choice by Associated Press and earned a spot in the East-

West Shrine Game . . . Played in a two-tight end offense much of his career . . . Majored in Health Education . . . Enjoys listening to classical music . . . Full name: Willie Louis Scott, Jr. . . . Single.

How Acquired: Free Agent (1977)

College: Texas

NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: July 7, 1954

Birthplace: Temple, Texas

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

The versatile Simmons will be attempting a comeback in 1982 after spending most of last year on injured reserve . . . He suffered a torn calf muscle versus Seattle and missed the final 12 games . . . Before he was sidelined, Simmons was a valuable backup with the capability of playing every position along the offensive line . . . Acquired by the Chiefs as a free agent in 1977, he earned a starting role in the fourth game of that season and maintained his slot through the '80 campaign . . . He started most of those games at guard, although he opened several times at tackle . . . During the 1981 preseason he worked at center as well and could be a backup to Jack Rudnay at that position this season . . . A third round draft selection by New Orleans in 1976, Simmons sustained an ankle injury that year and the Saints then put him on waivers . . . He has played in 65 games since being obtained by the Chiefs . . . Simmons was a three-time all-Southwest Conference performer at the University of Texas . . . He captained the Longhorns his senior year and was named to first team All-America squads by AP and UPI . . . He played in two Cotton Bowls, the Gator Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl and Hula Bowl during his college career . . . Majored in physical education . . . Attended Temple H.S. in Temple, Texas . . . Full name: Robert Gatling Simmons . . . Married, wife Sherry, two children, twin girls.

J. T. SMITH • 86

Wide Receiver Ht: 6-2 Wt: 185

How Acquired: Free Agent (1978)

College: North Texas State

NFL Experience: 5

Birthdate: October 29, 1955

Birthplace: Leonard, Texas

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Smith has already earned All-Pro status as a punt returner and he might not be far off from garnering the same distinction as a wide receiver . . . Recording one of the top receiving seasons in Chiefs history, he led the club with 63 receptions for 852 yards and two touchdowns . . . The 63 catches are third-most for a season in club history and represents the best showing by a Chiefs wide receiver since 1963, when Chris Burford set the club mark with 68 . . . The 852 yards rank fifth-best all-time . . . Both figures put him in the Top 10 in the AFC among wide receivers and in the Top 15 overall last year . . . Meanwhile, Smith's name continues to dominate the Chiefs record books for punt returns . . . One of the most feared returners in the NFL, he produced yet another sensational campaign, bringing back 50 punts for 528 yards and a 10.6 average . . . The only player to handle a punt for the Chiefs over the last three seasons, his career marks now are 148 returns for 1,721 yards, both tops on the club's all-time charts . . . His 50 returns last year ranked first in the AFC, fourth in the NFL and second in team history next to his own record of 58 set in '79 . . . His 528 yards last season ranked first in the AFC, second in the NFL.

and third on the Chiefs all-time list next to his '79 (612 yards) and '80 (581 yards) totals . . . He also holds the longest return in club history, an 88-yard touchdown jaunt versus Oakland in '79 . . . He ended that day with 141 yards, a team record for return yardage in one game . . . His single-game bests last year were a five-return, 107-yard performance versus Tampa Bay (which included a season-long 62-yarder) and a six-return, 77-yard effort against Chicago . . . Always looking for a return, Smith had only seven fair catches the entire season . . . His career single-game best for pass receiving came last year in Arrowhead against San Diego, when he pulled down nine passes for 140 yards . . . He also had seven catches versus Seattle and five receptions in five different games . . . One of those five was a 99-yard afternoon versus Miami which included a season-long 42-yarder . . . He had at least one reception in every game last year and has caught passes in 46 of his last 48 games . . . Smith started each contest last year until a rib injury forced him to miss the first part of the season finale . . . He accounted for 1,380 yards during the campaign, counting his pass receiving and punt return yardage . . . He was named as an alternate to the AFC's Pro Bowl squad as a kick returner . . . Smith compiled some impressive figures in 1980 as well . . . He led the NFL in punt returns with a 14.5 average on 40 returns, which included two touchdowns . . . He was the Chiefs second-leading receiver with 46 catches, one behind Henry Marshall, for 655 yards . . . In addition to being named to the Pro Bowl that year, he was the punt returner on all-pro teams selected by AP, Football Digest and Pro Football Writers . . . Smith began his assault on the Chiefs punt return record books in 1979 with his record-breaking totals of 58 returns for 612 yards . . . Both of those figures were tops in the AFC, while his 10.6 average was second . . . He caught 33 passes that year, which was third on the club and first among wide receivers, for 444 yards and three touchdowns . . . Smith came to Kansas City in 1978 after being released by Washington in the middle of the season . . . He had signed with the Redskins as a free agent and played in six games in '78 as a defensive back, running back, wide receiver and kick returner . . . He played in six more games with the Chiefs, exclusively on kicking teams . . . Has been on the receiving end of both Steve Fuller's and Bill Kenney's first touchdown passes in the NFL . . . Has three career 100-yard plus punt returning games and two pass receiving (plus the 99-yarder) . . . Starred at wide receiver in four years at North Texas State, but wasn't drafted following his senior year . . . Majored in recreation . . . Outstanding basketball player and plays considerable in the off-season . . . Full name: John Thomas Smith.

GARY SPANI • 59

Linebacker Ht: 6-2 Wt: 228

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3-1978)

College: Kansas State

NFL Experience: 5

Birthdate: January 9, 1956

Birthplace: Satanta, Kansas

Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Leading the Chiefs in overall tackles in each of his four years, Spani is finally being recognized as one of the premier inside linebackers in the NFL . . . Rolling through yet another sensational campaign with 153 tackles last year, he was an UPI All-AFC Honorable Mention selection . . . The only ILB's listed in front of him in the voting were Jack Lambert of Pittsburgh and Randy Gradishar of Denver . . . Rapidly approaching All-Pro status, Spani has anchored the Chiefs linebacking unit the past four years and has been one of the main factors the defense has improved greatly since then . . . In those four seasons, he has recorded a whopping 603 tackles, which averages out to just over 150 per year . . . Maybe even more incredible are his 417 unassisted stops, an average of 104 per year . . . He has started 52 consecutive games for Kansas City at right inside linebacker, and has started in all but three of the 64 games he has been with the Chiefs, calling all the defensive signals . . . Spani jumped off to a splendid start last year, totaling a season-high 16 tackles in the Chiefs victory over Pittsburgh . . . He had at least six tackles in every game last year and contributed 10 or more seven times . . . He iced the Chiefs dramatic 28-17 come-from-behind victory over the rival Oakland Raiders when he scooped up a Marc Wilson fumble and rambled 91 yards for a touchdown in the final minute . . . He also made his only quarterback sack of the season in the game . . . He picked up his second fumble recovery of the season versus Denver . . . Of his 153 tackles, which was 57 more than runnerup Gary Barbaro, 104 were unassisted . . . He now has 4½ career sacks for 35½ yards in losses and seven fumble recoveries . . . Spani's 1980 totals included 149 tackles (96 unassisted), 2½ sacks for 18½ yards in losses, a team-leading four fumble recoveries, and the only interception of his pro career, which he returned 47 yards for a touchdown in a one-point win over Houston . . . In 1979, he registered the most tackles of his career, 157, which included a career-high 115 unassisted . . . He also had a sack for a 10-yard loss that year . . . As a rookie in '78, he didn't waste time introducing himself to the opposition, nailing down 144 tackles (102 unassisted) . . . He also recovered a fumble and blocked a PAT attempt . . . Spani was just as dominating on the collegiate level, totaling 545 tackles in four varsity seasons at Kansas State . . . He became the school's only consensus All-America in 1977, despite the Wildcats failing to win a Big Eight game the final three seasons . . . He was a three-time all-Big Eight selection and was named to the conference all-decade team in 1979 . . . Played in the Shrine East-West Game, Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl all-star games following his senior year . . . Conducted a football camp for youngsters this past June in Wichita, along with teammate Mike Bell, Mark Bell of Seattle, Green Bay's Lynn Dickey and Paul Coffman and New England's Don Calhoun . . . Enjoys golf and fishing . . . Majored in personnel management . . . Attended Manhattan H.S. in Manhattan, Kan. . . . Full name: Gary L. Spani . . . Single.

ART STILL • 67

Defensive End Ht: 6-7 Wt: 252

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1-1978)

College: Kentucky

NFL Experience: 5

Birthdate: December 5, 1955

Birthplace: Camden, New Jersey

Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

The respect Still has gained in the NFL became extremely obvious last season when he was selected to the Pro Bowl despite missing five games in the middle of the campaign . . . When he was healthy, Still was the same dominating defensive end which gained him All-Pro status and a starting berth for the AFC in the Pro Bowl the previous year . . . He finished the '81 season with 68 tackles (41 unassisted), including two sacks for 13 yards in losses . . . His injury came early in the third game of the year versus San Diego when he strained ligaments in his right knee . . . Prior to the injury, he had started in all 51 games in which he was a member of the Chiefs . . . His best outing of the season came versus Chicago just two games after returning from the injury when he was in on 11 tackles . . . Four weeks later he had 10 stops and a sack against Denver . . . In the season finale, he was credited with nine tackles and recovered a fumble which set up a field goal in the Chiefs victory over Minnesota . . . The first three years of Still's career were sensational ones, as he was the cornerstone of the Chiefs improving defense . . . The Chiefs first round draft choice in '78 and the second player taken in the entire draft behind Houston's Earl Campbell, Still stepped in immediately as the starting left defensive end . . . He finished each of his first three seasons as the club's second-leading tackler next to linebacker Gary Spani and first in quarterback sacks . . . His rookie campaign of '78, he recorded 120 tackles and 6½ sacks in making the UPI all-rookie team . . . In '79, he registered 137 tackles and 8½ sacks . . . He totaled an incredible 20 tackles in season finale that year versus Tampa Bay and was named to the Sports Illustrated all-pro team . . . In 1980, he was in on 140 tackles, including a team-leading 107 unassisted, and 14½ sacks for 115 yards in losses, all career highs . . . He was selected to practically every all-pro team following that season, including Football Digest, the Pro Football Writers Assn., Newspaper Enterprise Assn., Sports Illustrated and the UPI all-AFC squad . . . The superbly conditioned Still has amassed 465 tackles, including 31½ sacks for 250 yards in losses, in his first four years of pro football . . . If both he and right end Mike Bell remain healthy in '82, they could team to rate as one of the top defensive end combos in the NFL . . . They were largely responsible for the Chiefs leading the AFC in rushing defense and allowing opponents less than 100 yards rushing in 10 games last year . . . Still was the first Chiefs defensive lineman to be chosen to the Pro Bowl since Buck Buchanan in 1972 . . . He also was the highest-drafted Chiefs lineman since Buchanan in '63 . . . A four-year starter at Kentucky, Still was a consensus All-America his senior season and was named the Southeastern Conference player of the year by UPI . . . He led the Wildcats to a 10-1 record, but they couldn't play in a bowl game because of a NCAA probation . . . Played in the Shrine East-West Game, Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl . . . Majored in criminology . . . Works in sales and public relations for Coca-Cola in Kansas City during the off-season . . . Comes from a family of 10 children; one of his younger brothers plays basketball at William Jewell College, the Chiefs summer training base, and a sister was one of the leading basketball scorers and rebounders in the NCAA at Kentucky . . . Still also plays a lot of basketball during the off-season . . . Full name: Arthur Barry Still . . . Single.

ROGER TAYLOR • 76

Tackle Ht: 6-6 Wt: 275

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3b-1981)

College: Oklahoma State

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: May 1, 1958

Birthplace: Shawnee, Oklahoma

Residence: Blue Springs, Missouri

Taylor is a big reason why Marv Levy is excited about the Chiefs young offensive line prospects . . . He played in 13 games last year as a rookie, seeing more and more action as the season progressed . . . Taylor was the Chiefs second choice of the third round of the 1981 draft in a slot obtained in a draft-day trade with the Denver Broncos . . . Kansas City sent running back Tony Reed to the Broncos in exchange for that No. 3 spot plus a fourth round selection in 1982 . . . The Chiefs picked Stuart Anderson with the choice . . . Taylor played on both the offensive and defensive lines during his four-year career at Oklahoma State . . . As a sophomore in 1978, he finished fourth on the Cowboys team with 45 tackles and eight sacks . . . After opening his junior season at defensive end, he was switched to the offensive line, where he played the rest of his career . . . He was an offensive and defensive lineman at Star Spencer H.S. in Spencer, Okla., lettering three years and earning all-state honors as a senior . . . Also competed in basketball and track (shot put and discus) . . . Full name: Roger Wayne Taylor . . . Married, wife Beth, one child.

TODD THOMAS • 62

Center Ht: 6-5 Wt: 261

How Acquired: Draft (No. 5-1981)

College: North Dakota

NFL Experience: 2

Birthdate: December 2, 1959

Birthplace: Mankato, Minnesota

Residence: Cedarburg, Wisconsin

Another impressive rookie offensive lineman last year, Thomas served as the Chiefs deep-snapper and is the heir apparent to Jack Rudnay's center position . . . Thomas played in the first 15 games last season, but he suffered a shoulder separation versus Miami which required surgery and missed the season finale . . . He also is very capable at offensive tackle, as he earned Division II All-America honors from AP at that position following his senior year at North Dakota . . . He was a two-time all-North Central Conference honoree and was named the conference's most valuable lineman in 1980 . . . Thomas was North Dakota's deep-snapper all four years . . . Attended Cedarburg H.S. in Cedarburg, Wisc., where he played offensive and defensive tackle . . . Also competed in basketball and baseball . . . Majored in chemical engineering . . . Interests include racquetball and basketball . . . Full name: Todd R. Thomas . . . Single.

MIKE WILLIAMS • 40

Running Back Ht: 6-3 Wt: 225

How Acquired: Draft (No. 8a-1979)

College: New Mexico

NFL Experience: 4

Birthdate: October 14, 1957

Birthplace: New Kingston, Pennsylvania

Residence: El Paso, Texas

Williams spent all but the first three games of last year on the injured reserve list after knee surgery to repair torn ligaments . . . He had been switched back to fullback after a one-year trial at tight end . . . As a rookie in 1979, Williams showed flashes of brilliance in the backfield, the best of which was a 28-carry, 109-yard performance in a victory over Oakland . . . His season rushing totals were 261 yards on 69 carries and a touchdown and he also caught 16 passes for 129 yards and two TDs . . . His "sophomore" season, he was moved to tight end to fill a void for the Chiefs and he started 11 games . . . Used mostly as a blocker, he caught just two passes that year for nine yards, one being a three-yard touchdown that helped beat Detroit . . . With the Chiefs using several draft choices last year for tight ends, Williams was moved back to his natural position of fullback, but was injured before getting untracked . . . He carried the ball twice, had one reception and returned one kickoff before the injury . . . He had a superb collegiate career at New Mexico, setting the school's all-time rushing record with 3,861 career yards . . . He led the Western Athletic Conference in rushing in 1977 and '78, carrying for 1,240 yards as a sophomore and 1,096 as a junior . . . He followed that his senior season with 1,014 yards . . . He also set the school and WAC record for single-game yardage when he rushed for 236 yards on 47 carries versus Texas El Paso in 1977 . . . Majored in speech communication . . . Attended Parkland H.S. in El Paso . . . Full name: Michael Anthony Williams . . . Single.

RETURNING 1981 DRAFTEES

Round 4

RON WASHINGTON

Arizona State

Wide Receiver

5-11½ 195

Knee surgery kept Washington on the injured reserve list the entire 1981 season . . . A fourth round draft choice last year, he compiled some outstanding statistics at Arizona State as a wide receiver and kickoff returner . . . In four years, he caught 56 passes for 941 yards and five touchdowns . . . He also returned 35 kickoffs, which ranks first in ASU history, for 773 yards, which is second-best all-time, for a 22.1 average . . . His best pass receiving year came as a junior when he grabbed 25 passes for 381 yards and two touchdowns . . . His top season as a returner was his senior campaign when he ran back 13 kickoffs for 318 yards and a 24.5 average . . . Majored in communications . . . Born January 6, 1958 in Phoenix, Arizona . . . Married, wife Cynthia.

Round 10

LES STUDDARD

Texas

Guard

6-4½ 260

Studdard will attempt to crack a spot on the Chiefs offensive line after spending all of last year on injured reserve nursing an ankle injury . . . A 10th round draft choice in 1981, Studdard was impressive during the preseason before being sidelined . . . A three-year starter for Texas, he began his career as a tight end but was switched to guard for his final two collegiate years . . . He was named to the all-Southwest Conference team by both UPI and AP . . . Studdard's brother, Dave, is a starter on the Denver Broncos offensive line . . . Operated a catfish farm along with his father and brother during the off-season . . . Attended Pearsall H.S. in Pearsall, Texas . . . Physical education major . . . Born December 14, 1958 in El Paso, Texas . . . Single.

FREE AGENTS

NT BILL ACKER started four games for St. Louis as a rookie in 1980. A sixth round draft choice by the Cardinals, he played in all 16 games that year and the first eight last season before being released . . .

RB DOUG BANKS was claimed on waivers from San Diego, which released him during preseason last year . . .

C ROBERT BARNES spent the first part of last season on Detroit's injured reserve list before being waived in October . . .

RB THOMAS BENNETT had a tryout with Cleveland last summer but didn't make the regular season roster . . .

P DON BIRDSEY was a late cut by Dallas last August, after handling the Kansas State punting duties the four previous years . . .

CB TRENT BRYANT was with Washington for three games last year before being waived. He was a 10th round draft choice by Baltimore in 1981 . . .

LB JOHN BUNGARTZ signed with

Buffalo as a free agent last year but was released prior to the regular season . . . PK MIKE DITCHFIELD is a native of England who had a tryout with Denver last year . . . S JON HOKE was with the Chiefs as a free agent in 1980, but broke his wrist during preseason and was put on injured reserve. He then was claimed by Chicago and played 11 games with the Bears that year, but was waived in August last year . . . CB LYNDELL JONES tried out with Philadelphia last year as a free agent . . . WR DAN LAVITT is a world class hurdler who went to high school at Raytown South in Kansas City. He attended the University of Missouri and Missouri-Kansas City, but hasn't played a full season of football since junior high . . . S DAVID MARTIN was a ninth round draft choice of Detroit in 1981 but was let go before the start of the regular season . . . LB KYLE McNORTON was All-Big Eight at Kansas and finished his four-year career as the Jayhawks' all-time leader in tackles with 381 . . . DE RICK OLIVE was with the Chiefs briefly last summer as a free agent . . . TE MIKE PHILLIPS finished his collegiate career at the Chiefs training camp base, William Jewell in Liberty, MO. He also played at Coffeyville (Kan.) Junior College and at the University of Missouri . . . DE DEAN PRATER was a 10th round draft choice of Cleveland in 1981 but was released late in training camp . . . PK JOHN SPENGLER was a late preseason cut by Detroit a year ago . . . T AL STEINFELD had a tryout with Philadelphia last year as a free agent but was let go before the regular season . . . G GEORGE STEWART signed with the Chiefs as a free agent last summer and spent the entire season on injured reserve. He was a two-time All-Southwest Conference guard at Arkansas . . . RB SEAN WEEKS had a tryout with Dallas last summer but was released before the regular season.

CHIEFS 1981 DRAFT

Round 1 ANTHONY HANCOCK Wide Receiver
Tennessee 6-0 187

The Chiefs traded first round draft spots with St. Louis, plus gave up their third round choice, to select Anthony Hancock, a dazzling wide receiver from Tennessee . . . World class speed, agility and sure hands made Hancock the most envied receiver in the 1982 draft . . . The first receiver taken, he was the 11th choice overall (the Chiefs were to pick 16th) . . . He ranks second in Tennessee history in all-time career receptions (106) behind Larry Seivers (117) . . . A dangerous open-field runner, Hancock was a Sporting News Honorable Mention All-America honoree and was selected to play in the '82 East-West Shrine Game and the '82 Olympia Gold Bowl . . . He missed the first three games of his senior campaign due to a broken foot he suffered when he stepped on a bottle while going to a preseason pro football game in Cleveland . . . He reached full stride by the fifth game, scoring the game-winning touchdown versus Georgia Tech on a 42-yard catch . . . He exploded for 196 yards on 11 receptions including a 43-yard TD to help the Volunteers defeat Wisconsin in the Garden State Bowl . . . He ended the season with 32 catches for 437 yards and five touchdowns in eight games . . . His junior year, Hancock finished with 33 receptions for 580 yards and was named AP Honorable Mention All-America . . . His highest totals were gathered during an outstanding sophomore campaign, catching 34 passes for 687 yards and a 20.2 average . . . He snatched three passes for 116 yards versus Purdue in the Bluebonnet Bowl that year . . . He has been used frequently on reverses, with his longest run a 44-yard touchdown run his junior season . . . An 85-yard grab his sophomore year still ranks as the longest reception in Tennessee history . . . Hancock was an All-America hurdler (1978-80), timed in 7.15 for 60 meter hurdles, 13.88 for 110-meter hurdles and 21.26 for 200-meter dash . . . He was part of a Tennessee 440-meter shuttle hurdle relay squad which shattered the world record in May of 1981 with a time of 54.40 . . . With 4.45 speed in the 40, Hancock will be given a chance for kick returning duty with the Chiefs in addition to being used as a wide receiver . . . Sociology major . . . Attended John Hay High School in Cleveland, Ohio, where he was a three-sport (football, track and baseball) standout . . . Full name: Anthony Duane Hancock . . . Single.

Round 2CALVIN DANIELS
North CarolinaLinebacker
6-3 236

The Chiefs strengthened their linebacking corps by making their second round selection Calvin Daniels from North Carolina . . . A three-year starter for the Tar Heels, Daniels recorded 166 career tackles, including 106 unassisted and 27 for 143 yards in losses . . . He teamed with Lawrence Taylor, now of the New York Giants, in 1979 and 1980 to give North Carolina an outstanding outside linebacking tandem . . . He was in on 54 tackles his senior campaign, including eight (six solo) versus Clemson in being named ABC-TV/Chevrolet Co-Player-of-the-Game . . . His junior season, Daniels was credited with 50 tackles and was named ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week in a win over N.C. State when he made nine stops and intercepted a pass . . . His biggest statistics came as a sophomore when he had 62 tackles, 43 of which were unassisted . . . Big, strong player with 4.8 speed and loads of athletic ability . . . 46th player taken in the draft . . . Starter in '79 and '81 Gator Bowl victories and '80 Bluebonnet Bowl win . . . Also played in Japan Bowl as a senior and recovered a fumble to set up an East touchdown . . . Played defensive tackle on North Carolina's jayvee squad as a freshman in '78 . . . Recreation major, interested in recreational therapy for kids . . . As a prepster at Goldsboro (N.C.) High School, he was selected to All-Conference and All-East teams as a defensive tackle . . . Full name: Calvin Richard Daniels . . . Single.

Round 4a*LOUIS HAYNES
North Texas StateLinebacker
6-0 227

Selecting their second consecutive linebacker, the Chiefs picked Louis Haynes from North Texas State in the fourth round . . . Haynes accumulated some impressive statistics during his three year career with the Eagles, recording 278 tackles including 189 unassisted . . . He transferred to NTS following his freshman season at Bishop College in Dallas . . . He sat out the 1978 season but returned to become the Eagles' leading tackler in '79 and '80 . . . He played inside linebacker his first two years before switching to the outside his senior campaign . . . Exceptional speed (4.55) more than compensates for his size, as is indicated by his 11 quarterback sacks last year . . . He had 11-tackle efforts his senior year against Southwest Louisiana and Oklahoma State . . . Haynes was in on 108 tackles as a junior and 99 as a sophomore . . . He also had two interceptions in each of those years . . . Finished career with four thefts and 19 sacks . . . Also lettered three years in track . . . Has thrown the shot put 61-3 . . . Round 4b*STUART ANDERSON
VirginiaLinebacker/NT
6-1 247

A powerful and versatile defensive player, Stuart Anderson was the Chiefs second choice in the fourth round . . . He combines good strength, quickness and fluid lateral movement to give the Chiefs an all-around solid athlete . . . Anderson played nose guard, defensive tackle, middle linebacker and fullback during his four-year career at Virginia . . . Chiefs are projecting him as an inside linebacker at first with the possibility of moving him to nose tackle . . . He ended his collegiate career with a whopping 481 tackles with his best season coming last year when he totaled 140 . . . He was named Sporting News Honorable Mention All-America in 1981 as well as first team All-ACC for the second year in a row . . . He also was chosen to play in the '82 Blue-Gray Game and the '82 Olympia Gold Bowl . . . Anderson also led the Cavaliers in tackles in '79 (125) and '80 (120) . . . He made an incredible 24 tackles against Outland Trophy winner Jim Ritcher in '79 loss to N.C. State . . . Began his freshman season as a fullback, switched to nose guard and contributed 96 tackles . . . Went on to develop into an excellent pass rusher, finishing his career with 43 tackles behind the line for 226 yards in losses . . . Only interception came his junior season . . . Attended Mathews H.S. in Cardinal, Va., where he lettered in football, basketball and track . . . Was team captain in all three sports . . . Named Pro All-America, All-State, All-Region and All-District as a senior, playing linebacker and fullback . . . Rushed for over 1,350 yards his final year . . . All-Regional and All-District forward in basketball . . . Majored in Special Education . . . Full name: Stuart Noel Anderson . . . Single.

Round 5 DEL THOMPSON
Texas-El Paso

Running Back
6-0½ 203

The Chiefs fifth-round draft choice, Del Thompson had a mediocre senior season after an outstanding junior campaign at Texas El Paso . . . A powerful inside runner with excellent balance, Thompson rambled for 923 yards on 213 carries as a junior, earning AP Honorable Mention All-America status and first team All-Western Athletic Conference honors . . .

But he saw limited duty last year after a head coaching change two games into the season . . . He still managed 560 yards for a 5.5 average and was named Honorable Mention All-WAC . . . His career best was a 167-yard, 38-carry effort versus New Mexico State in 1980 . . . He also gained 102 yards on 15 attempts against Utah . . . He broke his right hand in the game against Nevada-Las Vegas and missed two games . . . Thompson is also considered a good receiver, catching 49 passes for 444 yards in his two years at UTEP . . . An aggressive and tough competitor, he handled some kick returning duties as well . . . Played at the University of Texas as a freshman, transferred to Ranger (Texas) Junior College for his sophomore season before going to UTEP . . . Lettered four years in football, basketball and track at Hamlin H.S. in Hamlin, Texas, where he teamed with Earl Campbell and Johnny "Ham" Jones . . . Set several school records in track, running the 100, 220, 440, relays, high jump and long jump . . . Secondary education major . . . Full name: Delbert Ray Thompson . . . Single.

Round 6DURWOOD ROQUEMORE

Texas A&I

Safety

6-1 180

The Chiefs used their sixth round choice to aid their defensive secondary, selecting College Division I All-America safety Durwood Roquemore . . . He finished his collegiate career as Texas A&I's all-time career leader in interceptions with 22 . . . A three-year starter, Roquemore has the knack for making the big play . . . He led the Javelinas in interceptions the past two years, including a school record 10 his junior season . . . He also totaled 170 tackles (118 solos) in his career with a high of 72 last year . . . The biggest interception of his career was a fourth-quarter theft in the end zone to preserve a victory over eventual Division II champs Southwest Texas . . . As a junior, he had two interceptions in Texas A&I's Division II championship defeat of Central State (Okla.) . . . Roquemore garnered first team College Division I All-America honors from Associated Press as a senior and was an Honorable Mention selection as a junior . . . He also was a Football Coaches first team All-America honoree last year . . . He was named to the All-Lone Star Conference first team both years . . . Communications major . . . Attended South Oak Cliff H.S. in Dallas, Texas, gaining All-Metro and All-District honors . . . Full Name: Durwood Clinton Roquemore.

Round 7GREG SMITH

Kansas

Nose Tackle

6-2 275

The Chiefs added size to their defensive unit by selecting Greg Smith from Kansas in the seventh round . . . Smith put together back-to-back quality seasons the last two years after being redshirted in 1979 . . . He registered 256 career tackles, with his best season 1980 when he totaled 91 stops, including 11 behind the line for 63 yards in losses . . . His size enables him to handle double-team blocking efforts well . . . Smith was a steady performer last year as a co-captain for the Jayhawks, recording six or more tackles in eight games . . . His biggest day was versus Missouri when he was in on 12 tackles . . . He was named second-team All-Big Eight as a senior . . . A two-sport standout at Mendall Catholic H.S. in Chicago . . . Captained squad and earned All-League, All-City and team MVP honors on the gridiron in '76 . . . City heavyweight wrestling champion as a senior . . . Communications major at Kansas . . . Full name: Gregory Smith . . . Married, wife Sharon, one daughter.

Round 8*CASE deBRUIJN

Idaho State

Punter

6-0½ 176

A punter and placekicker with tremendous collegiate averages, Case deBruijn was the Chiefs eighth round draft choice . . . His remarkable four-year totals at Idaho State included a 43.7 punting average while connecting on 77 of 84 PAT's and 27 of 46 field goals . . . deBruijn set NCAA Division IAA records for career punts (256), career yardage (11,184), career average (43.7), season average (45.9) and average in a game (53.6 vs. Weber State) . . . He also holds several Big Sky Conference records and the majority of Idaho State punting bests . . . He led the NCAA Division IAA in punting his last two years and was second as a freshman and sophomore . . . deBruijn was named Honorable Mention All-America by Sporting News and first team Little All-America by AP last year while making the All-Big Sky first team the past two seasons . . . A Netherlands native who moved to Virginia at age six, his best season as a placekicker came last year when he converted 48 of 51 PAT's and 15 of 26 field goals (including post season play) . . . He averaged over 40 yards per punt in 12 consecutive games in '78 and '79 . . . deBruijn's high school coach led him to Idaho State because of its business school . . . Business Administration/Marketing major . . . All-league wide receiver at Stonewall Jackson H.S. in Manassas, Virginia . . . Father was semi-pro soccer player . . . Full name: Case deBruijn . . . Round 9

LYNDLE BYFORD Oklahoma

Tackle
6-5 270

A ninth round draft pick, Lyndle Byford brings excellent size and a good background to the Chiefs offensive line . . . A tackle from Oklahoma, Byford earned Honorable Mention All-America honors from Associated Press last year, while being named AP first team All-Big Eight and UPI second team All-Big Eight . . . He also was selected to play in the 1982 East-West Shrine Game, the '82 Japan Bowl and the '82 Olympia Gold Bowl . . . After being redshirted in '78 due to ligament damage in a knee, Byford started at right tackle in '79 until an injury shelved him for the last five games . . . He then came back healthy the past two years to record solid seasons . . . Majored in Communications . . . Lettered four years at Empire H.S. in Duncan, Oklahoma . . . Loves farming and ranching . . . Full name: Lyndle Byford . . . Single.

Round 10

LARRY BRODSKY Miami (Fla.)

Wide Receiver
5-11 188

The Chiefs chose their second wide receiver of the 1982 draft, Larry Brodsky from Miami (Fla.), in the 10th round . . . Brodsky ended his career as the school's all-time career leader in receiving yardage with 1,696 yards on 100 catches . . . Leading the Hurricanes in receiving the last three years, he was an AP Honorable Mention All-America and first team All-South honoree last year . . . He also was selected to play in the '82 East-West Shrine Game . . . As a junior, Brodsky grabbed a 15-yard touchdown pass as the Hurricanes won the Peach Bowl . . . The longest reception of his career came against Florida A&M as a junior, when he caught a school record-tying 81-yard TD . . . Attended Hialeah H.S. in Miami, where he performed as a wide receiver and punter under his father . . . Selected prep All-State punter after averaging 42 yards per boot as a senior . . . His father is the offensive backfield coach at UM, and his brother played football for the University of Florida . . . Education major . . . Single.

 No. 36—Mack Lee Hill, running back

CHIEFS CHAMPIONSHIP REVIEW

Tommy Brooker kicks this 25-yard field goal in the second overtime to give the Dallas Texans their first American Football League championship 20 years ago. The Texans 20-17 victory over the Houston Oilers on December 23, 1962 at Houston was the first milestone in Lamar Hunt's successful Texans/Chiefs franchise. The Texan players of that championship team will be honored at Arrowhead Stadium this season when the Chiefs play Houston on October 10.

1962 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

DALLAS at HOUSTON

December 23, 1962

A contest that moved the infant American Football League into the national consciousness proved to be the first of three AFL titles for Hank Stram's Texans/Chiefs.

Following second place finishes in each of the league's first two seasons, the Texans ran away with the AFL West championship in 1962. Dallas finished 11-3, a full four games in front, and was matched with the Houston Oilers, also 11-3, who had won the AFL title in 1960 and '61 over the Los Angeles, then San Diego Chargers.

The Texans, paced by a pair of touchdowns from Abner Haynes, took a 17-0 halftime advantage. Haynes scored first on a 28-yard pass from Len Dawson and then on a two-yard run after Tommy Brooker had given Dallas a 3-0 first-quarter advantage with a 16-yard field goal.

But the momentum quickly shifted to the Oilers in the second half. George Blanda, then a "young" 35-year-old, passed 15 yards to Willard Dewveall for a touchdown and kicked a 31-yard field goal before Charley Tolar burst over from the one to tie the game at 17-17 in the fourth quarter.

The two teams then went into the first sudden death overtime in AFL annals. The Texans won the toss and Stram elected to kick off, maintaining his defense could hold the Oilers long enough for Dawson to get the ball in good field position. Herein came the famous "kick to the clock" episode in which Texans captain Haynes inadvertently elected for his team to kick into the wind instead of having it as the consolation for not receiving the football.

Neither club mounted a serious challenge in the early stages of overtime, but as the fifth quarter was drawing to a close, Dallas defensive end Bill Hull intercepted a Blanda pass and returned to midfield. Dawson then passed to Jack Spikes for 10 yards, Spikes, the game's most valuable player, ran for 19 and the Texans were in field goal range. At the 2:54 mark of the sixth quarter, Brooker kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Texans a 20-17 victory and the American Football League championship. The game lasted 77 minutes and 54 seconds and would be the longest in pro football history until the Chiefs and Miami Dolphins played over 82 minutes nearly a decade later in 1971.

1966 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

KANSAS CITY at BUFFALO

January 1, 1967

With a berth in Super Bowl I as the prize, the Chiefs visited ancient War Memorial Stadium for a New Year's Day clash with the defending AFL champion Buffalo Bills.

The game, played in frigid, subzero temperatures, produced its first break on the opening kickoff. Jerrel Wilson recovered a Bills fumble on the Buffalo 31-yard line. Three plays later, Len Dawson passed 29 yards to Fred Arbanas for the first touchdown and a 7-0 Kansas City lead.

Buffalo, though, tied the game near the end of the opening period when Jack Kemp hit Elbert Dubenion on a 69-yard pass play. Few thought it would be the Bills final score of the day.

The Chiefs defense stiffened and Dawson led the offense to 10 second-quarter points. Otis Taylor caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and Mike Mercer added a 32-yard field goal, aided by a 72-yard pass interception by Johnny Robinson.

Mike Garrett then applied the coup de grace for the Chiefs by scoring on runs of one and 18 yards. Kansas City won its second AFL title in four years and awaited the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl I.

SUPER BOWL I

KANSAS CITY vs GREEN BAY

January 15, 1967

Representing themselves and the American Football League in the first championship match with the National Football League, the Chiefs played well for one half before bowing to the supremacy of the Green Bay Packers.

Vince Lombardi's Packers, one of the great pro football teams of all time, won Super Bowl I by a 35-10 score. But the Packers held a slim 14-10 advantage at the half before the game turned on one play in the third quarter.

Green Bay opened the scoring when Bart Starr passed 37 yards to Max McGee, McGee making a remarkable one-handed catch for the touchdown. Len Dawson tied the game for the Chiefs when he passed to Curtis McClinton for a second period touchdown. The Packers then went back on top, 14-7, before Mike Mercer kicked a 31-yard field goal just before the half ended.

The Chiefs momentum carried over into the third quarter as Kansas City moved to a first down on its initial possession. But then the game's key play, one that doomed the underdog Chiefs, unfolded when Willie Wood intercepted a Dawson pass intended for Fred Arbanas at midfield. Wood returned all the way to the Chiefs 5-yard line, where Elijah Pitts ran for a third Green Bay touchdown and an insurmountable 21-10 lead.

1969 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME KANSAS CITY at OAKLAND January 4, 1970

On the day the American Football League played the final game of its 10-year history, the Kansas City Chiefs became the only three-time AFL champion. The Chiefs, through a curious playoff system, played their Western Division rivals, the Oakland Raiders, for the league's last title. Oakland, which had won the AFL West and held a pair of regular season wins over the Chiefs, went down to a 17-7 defeat, the first of several AFL/AFC title game defeats that have bedeviled the Raiders during the past decade.

Ironically, Kansas City's win in the Oakland Coliseum was its last to date. And the Raiders have fared little better in the confines of Municipal and then Arrowhead Stadium.

The contest, unlike other Raiders-Chiefs matchups, was marked by turnovers. The two clubs managed one first-half touchdown apiece, Oakland's on a three-yard run by Charlie Smith, Kansas City responding with a one-yard plunge by Wendell Hayes after Len Dawson had hit on passes of 14 yards to Otis Taylor and 41 yards to Frank Pitts.

In the third quarter, George Blanda twice missed field goal attempts that would have moved Oakland in front. Midway through the period, Kansas City mounted a drive from its own 2-yard line, the field position a result of a fumble which luckily was recovered before it bounded into the end zone. Dawson and Taylor pulled Kansas City out of the hole with a 35-yard pass and run play. Robert Holmes added 23 more on a flare pass in the left flat and then scored the go-ahead touchdown five plays later.

At this point, the game became a defensive struggle. Led by defensive charges from the entire front four of Aaron Brown, Buck Buchanan, Curley Culp and Jerry Mays, the Chiefs continually harassed Raiders quarterback Daryle Lamonica. But the turnovers which would plague both teams were only beginning.

In the fourth quarter, turnovers gave Oakland the football three times in Kansas City territory. Three times the Chiefs responded with interceptions, one each by Jim Marsalis, Jim Kearney and Emmitt Thomas. Thomas' steal was his second of the day and covered 62 yards to the Oakland 18-yard line. Jan Stenerud's field goal provided a 17-7 lead and a return to the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL IV KANSAS CITY vs MINNESOTA January 11, 1970

Kansas City's finest sports hour concluded at 5:20 in the afternoon of Sunday, January 11, 1970, when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 23-7, for the world championship of pro football.

The Chiefs, who finished 11-3 on the season and defeated the New York Jets and Oakland in the playoffs, closed out their first decade as the outstanding team in the American Football League which, with Super Bowl IV, came to an end. Beginning in 1970, the two leagues merged, with the AFL becoming the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Minnesota, a prohibitive favorite, was 12-2 during the regular season and at one point had won 12 games in succession.

The Chiefs took an early lead when Jan Stenerud kicked a 48-yard first quarter field goal. Stenerud's kick remains a Super Bowl record. He then followed with field goals of 32 and 25 yards for a 9-0 lead.

Kansas City received the first break in the game when the Vikings Charlie West fumbled a kickoff and Remi Prudhomme recovered at the Minnesota 19-yard line. After an eight-yard loss, Len Dawson handed off to Wendell Hayes, who rambled for 13 yards up the middle on a draw play. A 10-yard pass to Otis Taylor gave the Chiefs a first down at the 4. Three plays later Mike Garrett burst off-tackle for five yards and a touchdown. The Chiefs held a 16-0 halftime lead, stunning the Vikings and a nationwide television audience.

Minnesota mounted a mild third-quarter comeback when Dave Osborn scored from four yards out to cut the margin to 16-7. But any hopes the Vikings had of getting closer were dashed by Otis Taylor, who lived up to his big-play reputation repeatedly through that season.

Dawson hit Taylor on a short hitch pattern, but when Earsell Mackbee missed the initial tackle, Taylor was loose down the right sideline, highstepping his way to a 46-yard touchdown. After three quarters, the Chiefs again held a 16-point lead.

As was so often the case in 1969, the defense came to the fore. Minnesota had the ball three times in the final period and, as in the Oakland game the previous week, the Chiefs snuffed out all three chances with interceptions. Middle linebacker Willie Lanier picked off a Joe Kapp pass to halt a rally at the Chiefs 34-yard line. Later on, Johnny Robinson, playing with what turned out to be three broken ribs, grabbed another errant Kapp throw. In the game's closing minutes, Emmitt Thomas intercepted his third pass of the playoffs. The Chiefs then ran out the clock to capture the AFL's second consecutive Super Bowl triumph.

The American Football League's 10-year history had come to an end with the Kansas City Chiefs its most successful team. The 1970s would usher in a new era for the Chiefs, an era that would produce noted changes as the club sought to regain its position as world champion.

CHIEFS CLUB

Chiefs Official Booster Organization

BOB JENKINS

resident.

The Chiefs Club is the official booster organization for the Kansas City Chiefs and has long been regarded as one of the most active support groups in the National Football League.

With its official membership numbering 2,500, the Chiefs Club is active in ticket drives, special events, charter trips to away games and numerous civic and charitable functions in the greater Kansas City area.

Bob Jenkins is the new president of the Chiefs Club for the 1982 campaign. Jenkins, who is a partner in an area construction company, has been a longtime Kansas City Instrumental in a big civic push that solidified the Chiefs franchise in Kansas City in the early sixties, the Chiefs Club continues to sponsor several civic functions each year. Major among the events are Kansas City's famous "101 Banquet," an annual salute to the outstanding players and coaches in the AFC and NFC and the annual Chiefs Club Kickoff Luncheon. The "101 Banquet" is a black tie awards dinner held in February and is recognized as one of pro football's finest awards dinners. The annual Kickoff Luncheon, staged the week of the Chiefs regular season home opener, salutes the 45-man Chiefs team at a special civic luncheon. In addition to hosting special in-season dinners with Chiefs coaches and players, the booster club stages several off-season social events and participates and coordinates two collegiate scholarships for area youths—the Len Dawson Scholarship and the Bruce Rice Scholarship.

MACK LEE HILL AWARD

cluding the final 13 games. He finished his rookie campaign with four interceptions and 69 tackles, fourth on the Chiefs squad in both categories.

Burruss was the owner of the team's only interception return for a touchdown, picking off a Jim Zorn pass and rambling 46 yards in the Chiefs win over Seattle in Arrowhead Stadium. He came up with his first two pro thefts in the game versus New England.

A native of Charlottesville, Virginia, Burruss was a four-year starter at the University of Maryland, where he played in four bowl games. He totaled nine interceptions and 160 tackles during his career and was a first team all-Atlantic Coast Conference selection and an Honorable Mention All-America choice by Associated Press.

Each year since 1966, the Chiefs veteran players have selected a recipient for the Mack Lee Hill award. It is a tribute to the late Mack Lee Hill, an outstanding running back who played for the Chiefs in 1964 and 1965. He was described as a man who played as much with his heart as he did with his driving legs in the early days of the American Football League.

In memory and tribute to Mack Lee Hill, the award is presented annually at the "101 Banquet" to the Chiefs rookie, who, as the inscription on the trophy reads—"best exemplifies the spirit of the late Mack Lee Hill . . . the man with the giant heart and quiet way." In selecting the recipient, the Chiefs players look for a rookie who has displayed the spirit and attitude of Mack Lee Hill.

CHIEFS HALL OF FAME

In tribute to those who have made outstanding contributions to the success of the Kansas City Chiefs Football Club, the team has established a Hall of Fame. New inductees are selected by a three-man committee, representing the Chiefs Booster Club, the area media, and the Chiefs organization. The award is presented annually at the "101 Banquet."

1981 Inductee Otis Taylor Wide Receiver

Kansas City fans will long remember the heroics of ol' Number 89, Otis Taylor, from the 1960s and 70s. A fourth round draft choice by the Chiefs in 1965 from Prairie View, Taylor quickly established himself as one of the premier wide receivers to ever play the game and helped lead Kansas City into two Super Bowls. He finished his 10-year career with the Chiefs as the club's all-time leading receiver, with 410 receptions, 7,306 yards, and 60 touchdowns. He also holds the Chiefs single-season receiving yardage record of 1,297, set in 1966. One of the highlights of his illustrious career was his remarkable performance in the Chiefs 23-7 triumph over Minnesota in Super Bowl IV. He caught six passes for 81 yards that day, including a 46-yard touchdown pass from Len Dawson in the third quarter that put the Chiefs lead out of reach of the Vikings. He was selected to play in the first three AFC-NFC Pro Bowl Games. Kansas City's leading receiver in five of his 10 seasons, Taylor is now a talent scout for the Chiefs player personnel department. He became the 13th person to be inducted into the Chiefs Hall of Fame.

BROADCAST TEAM — The Chiefs announce team again in 1982 is Wayne Larrivee (left) and Bill Grigsby (background). Larrivee will handle the play-by-play with Grigsby providing the color commentary. As in each of the Chiefs 20 seasons in Kansas City, the broadcasts will be carried by 81/KCMO. The Chiefs will also be heard throughout the Midwest under broadcast rights awarded to the Mutual Broadcasting System. Larrivee, a New England native, begins his fifth year as the Chiefs radio voice. He previously broadcast University of Iowa football. A popular figure on the Kansas City scene, Grigsby's broadcast credits include the Chiefs plus major league baseball.

KANSAS CITY CHIEFS 20-YEAR HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

- May 14, 1963—Lamar Hunt announces he is moving his AFL Dallas Texans franchise to Kansas City and renaming it the Chiefs. Kansas City mayor H. Roe Bartle, who invited Hunt to move the franchise, was a key figure in the process.
- Sept. 7, 1963—The Chiefs kickoff their first Kansas City season with a 59-7 romp over the Broncos at Denver. It still is the most points scored by a Chiefs team in club history.
- Oct. 6, 1963—The Chiefs debut in Kansas City at Municipal Stadium, resulting in a 28-7 victory over the Houston Oilers.
- Nov. 1, 1964—The Chiefs treat a Municipal Stadium crowd to a wild 49-39 victory over Denver, which is the most combined points by two teams in Kansas City history. Quarterback Len Dawson set single-game Chiefs records with 435 passing yards and 448 total yards.
- Dec. 19, 1965—The Chiefs win a 45-35 thriller over Denver to complete their first winning season in Kansas City.
- Nov. 27, 1966—The Chiefs post a 32-24 win over the New York Jets to clinch the AFC West title.
- Jan. 1, 1967—The Chiefs defeat the Buffalo Bills, 31-7, in the AFC Championship Game to earn a trip to Super Bowl I.
- Jan. 15, 1967—The Chiefs play the Green Bay Packers of the NFL in the first AFL-NFL World Championship Game. The Packers won Super Bowl I, 35-10, at the Los Angeles Coliseum.
- June 27, 1967—Voters of Jackson County approve bonds for a sports complex which would become a new home for the Chiefs.
- Aug. 24, 1967—The first AFL-NFL game in Kansas City, which resulted in an emotion-packed Chiefs team crushing the mighty Chicago Bears, 66-24, in a preseason contest.
- Dec. 14, 1968—The Chiefs claim a 30-7 triumph over Denver to close out their best regular season campaign in franchise history, 12-2. They lost a week later to Oakland in the Western Division playoffs.
- Jan. 4, 1970—The Chiefs defeat Oakland, 17-7, to capture the AFL championship. It was the final game in AFL history, as the Chiefs become the league's only three-time champions.
- Jan. 11, 1970—The biggest moment in Kansas City sports history came to a peak as the Chiefs become World Champions by defeating the Minnesota Vikings, 23-7, in Super Bowl IV. It was the last AFL-NFL Championship Game and the Chiefs became the only division runner-up in history to win a Super Bowl.
- April 15, 1970—Season ticket sales began for Arrowhead Stadium, eventually resulting in a pro football single-season record 70,000.
- Dec. 12, 1971—The Chiefs clinch their second AFC West title since moving to Kansas City, edging Oakland 16-14 at Municipal Stadium.
- Dec. 25, 1971—Kansas City and Miami hook up in the longest game in NFL history. The Chiefs lost the AFC playoff game in double overtime, 27-24, at Municipal Stadium.
- July 29, 1972—Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.
- Aug. 12, 1972—Arrowhead Stadium dedicated at the inaugural preseason game which the Chiefs won, 24-14, over St. Louis.
- Nov. 5, 1972—The largest home crowd in Chiefs history, 82,094, filled Arrowhead to watch Kansas City down Oakland, 27-14.
- Nov. 10, 1975—The Chiefs pull off a 34-31 upset over the Dallas Cowboys on Monday night television.
- Dec. 20, 1977—Marv Levy, after five successful years in the Canadian Football League as head coach of Montreal, is named the Chiefs new head coach.
- Dec. 6, 1981—Rookie running back Joe Delaney becomes the Chiefs new record-holder for most yards rushing in a season, passing the 1,087 mark set by Mike Garrett in 1967.
